DAWES RECEPTIVE

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
Cleveland, O., June 13.—Calvin
Coolidge and General Charles G.
Dawes.

Behind this ticket of solid Republican conservatism, organization
leaders got together in Cleveland today and laid the ground work for the long and arduous campaign that will carry through the heat of summer
and into the early frosts of November.

It will be a hectic campaign. That much is assured, irrespective of whom
the Democrats nominate at New York
two weeks hence. Dawes is one of the most picturesque men in public life.

General Dawes probably will carry
the brunt of the Republican attack in the west. President Coolidge has already given Republican leaders to understand that he will conduct a quiet campaign, so far as he personally is concerned, and if there is to be
any stamping of the Insurgent west,
it will have to be done by others. He plans to stay in Washington, radio
his words from the White House and

"Isn't it great" was the question of
one worker and the feeling that expressed the sentiments of every worker present at the final report supper
of the Y. M. C. A. Community Service
campaign.

Tenseness marked the move of every man as he gathered and there
seemed to be a mingled feeling of defeat and victory, for it was impossible
to know exactly what could be expected until the last telephone call was made and the last man who had been working reported.

Immediately after supper General
Chairman "Sam" Warner called for reports and when the total for the past two days was received and recorded it was found to be $11,724.50—
making a total of $50,909.85 subscribed.

Cheers were loud and happiness expressed in no small terms by the
workers when they knew that victory
was theirs, and that they had put it over for the girls and boys, and young manhood and womanhood of Clearfield, for that was what they were working for.

When quiet could finally be had and order restored Chairman Warner rose to express—in fact he hadn't been seated, but that is the way he did it,

Keenan Johnson, of Grampian, was badly cut about the head and had one
of his shoulders and his legs injured
and jammed up as the result of having his Ford coupe bumped off the railroad track at the grade crossing
in Woodland last evening by a New York Central freight train.

The accident occurred about 7 o'- clock. Johnson and a young man named Mitchell were in the car. This crossing is one of the most dangerous
grade crossings in this section as it is impossible to see a train approaching until it is right at the crossing.
Mitchell saw the train in time to make a quick jump to safety but Johnson remained at the wheel and
the car ran onto the track squarely
in front of the engine, which struck it
and tossed it upside down to the side
of the road.

Johnson was knocked out of the car
and also landed along the track easily
twenty-feet beyond where the upturned car lit. He was picked up by eye witnesses of the accident and carried to the restaurant porch nearby
where Dr. Shively gave him medical attention and discovered that while his injuries were painful they were not serious.

Johnson, who was an Irish bull in a lucky Mick, even though unlucky, as
he went over the bank off the State
road near Stronach about one year
ago and, as in this case, sustained serious injury although considerably used
up.

3 OFFICERS AND 45 MEN ON BATTLESHIP MISSISSIPPI KILLED

A Mysterious Explosion
Rends Gun Turret In
Which 90 Men Were Manning the Guns.

San Pedro, Calif., June 13.
(INS.)—The 48 men who lost their lives in an explosion late yesterday on the United States
battleship Mississippi went to their deaths sealed in an iron
room, it was disclosed here today.

An inspection of the "death
turret" today revealed the men
were unable to escape because
the intense heat of the fire after
the blast had welded the trap
door on the floor of the turret,
leaving them trapped behind 13-
inch walls of white hot steel.

Five officers of the Pacific
fleet entered the death chamber
today and found the men did not have a chance for their lives.

From the preliminary examination of the turret the officers believe many lives would have
been saved if the tiny trap door
had not welded.

Los Angeles, Calif., June 13. (INS.)
—Toll in the series of blasts on the U. S. S. Mississippi, rocked yesterday
in secret battle practice by a terrible explosion of mysterious origin, stood
today at three officers and 45 enlisted
men known to be dead, ten others believed fatally hurt and 59 others injured.

Caught like rats in a trap, more
than two score gunners and officers
were victims of one of the worst
peace-time tragedies in the history of the American navy.

As the ship was limping toward
port, a second blast in the gun turrets
rocked the battered craft, which unloaded its injured on the hospital ship

ORIGIN OF "HELL AND MARIA" GIVEN BY DAWES' UNCLE

By A. J. LYNCH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)

Cleveland, June 13.—Gen. Charles
G. Dawes, nominated as the running mate of President Calvin Coolidge late
last night, is not a profane man, W.
W. Mills, Marietta banker, uncle of the Vice Presidential candidate and
delegate to the Republican convention,
told International News Service today.

"Hell and Maria"—the General's
favorite expression is not profanity—
it's only the combination of two feminine names, a "hold over" from
Dawes' boyhood days, Mills said.
Wills said that two of Dawes' sisters
bore the names made famous a few years ago, when the general was summoned before a probing committee to tell what he knew of the A. E. F. The older brothers, as boys will, Mills continued, quickly caught the alliteration
and "Helen Maria" was a catch phrase
in the Dawes' household.

"Do you realize," asked Mills, referring with pride to his nephew's
achievement in formulating the Dawes' reparations plan for the settlement of Europe economic problems,
"that the only living men mentioned
in the platform head the party ticket
—Coolidge and Dawes?"

General Dawes, Mills said, appreciated the great honor that came to
him but was unwilling, so long as there
was a chance that former Governor
Frank O. Lowden might accept, a thing to bring about his nomination.

"When his nomination was assured," Mills continued, "I called Charley
on the telephone at Marietta and told him what had happened. He was interested but not excited and began
talking about family matters.

General Dawes was born in Marietta 59 years ago. He was graduated from the Marietta schools, Marietta
College and the Cincinnati College of Law. In 1887 he went to Lincoln,
Neb., and opened a law office, later leaving that city for Chicago, and describing law practice for banking.

London, June 12 (INS.)—According to a Berlin dispatch printed in the "Daily Express" today Princess Hermine, wife of the former Kaiser is expecting an interesting event soon. The Princess is visiting in Germany at present while her husband remains in exile at Doorn.

DOUMERGUE NAMED FRENCH PRESIDENT BY LEGISLATURE

Versailles, June 13. (INS.)—President Gaston Doumergue, of the French senate, this afternoon was elected president of the French Republic in succession to Alexandre Millerand, resigned.

The left bloc's favorite candidate,
President Paul Painleve, of the Chamber of Deputies, was not able to muster the necessary majority of votes in the national assembly to elect.

President Doumergue will serve until September 23, 1927.

New picture of Gaston Doumergue, mentioned as probable successor to President Millerand of France. Doumergue, a prominent left wing figure, has been president of the senate.

BUTLER, COOLIDGE MANAGER, NOW HEAD OF REPUBLICAN PARTY

Cleveland, O., June 13 (INS.)—William M. Butler, of Massachusetts,
personally selected by President Coolidge as his campaign manager, was elected chairman of the new Republican National committee at its initial session today.

Other officers elected for the direction of the campaign were: Vice chairman, Ralph E. Williams, of Oregon;
Charles D. Hilles, of New York and
Mrs. Alvin T. Hert, of Kentucky.

Treasurer, Wm. D. Hoges, of Denver.

Secretary, R. O. West, of Chicago.
The new officers represent a complete change in committee personnel.
Butler succeeds John T. Adams, of Iowa; West succeeds Geo. B. Lock-
wood, of Indiana, and Hoges replaces Fred W. Upham, of Illinois,
who had held the treasurer's post for
many years.

The selection of Hoges came as a surprise, as W. L. Mellon, of Pittsburgh, a nephew of A. W. Mellon, had been slated for the post. It is understood that Mellon declined the appointment.

Hoges was known to few members of the committee. He is a lawyer by profession, and was formerly president of the Civic and Commercial Association of Denver.

Coolidge Directs Quick Action on Administration of Soldier Bonus Measure

Washington, June 13 (INS.)—President Coolidge today issued definite instructions for the administration of the soldiers' bonus law despite the failure of Congress to appropriate
funds for its initial cost.

"The World War Adjusted Compensation act became a law over my protest," the President said in a letter to Secretary of War Weeks. "I am not willing, however, to let the Administration of the law remain practically
in abeyance until Congress again convenes simply because I would be justified under existing conditions in so doing.

"Rather I regard this law as imposing certain obligations upon the executive branch of the Government which do not permit of delay in performance."

FOUR AUTO LOADS OF BANDITS MAKE MILLION DOLLAR HAUL IN HOLD-UP OF MAIL TRAIN ON WHICH WERE 70 CLERKS

Chicago, June 13. (INS.)—Every
man of the 70 who manned the fast Chicago, Milwaukee and
St. Paul mail train which was held up and looted last night of mail, the value of which may
reach a million and a half dollars,
was taken into custody by detectives today for questioning. A.
M. Germer, chief postoffice inspector, in charge of investigation into the robbery, declared the robbery to have been an "inside
job."

Chicago, June (INS.) 13.—Searching 1,000 officers and special agents was afoot today for the four automobile loads of train bandits who scored a million dollar coup near here
last night.

The corps of bandits, using chloro-
form to drive the clerks from three cars of the all-mail special train of
the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroads after it had sped thirty-four miles from Chicago on its way north and west, gathering between

OUT OF 143 CONTESTANTS MIRIAM BOYD AND CHARLOTTE ZERFOSS ARE AGAIN WINNERS OF THE BIG MONEY

One hundred and forty-three little artists went after the prizes in the Coloring Page contest last week and
the judges had the hardest time yet awarding the prizes. They were sorry that there were not more prizes
to award as it was hard to pick out
the best colored pages.

But when the best ones were picked
out, Miriam Boyd had the first prize
of $5; Charlotte Zerfoss, second prize
of $5; Robert Vandine, third prize
of $1; Helen Holt, fourth prize of $1.
Tickets to the Saturday afternoon
performance at the Liberty Theatre
were awarded to Billy Roessner,
Dorothy Horne, Ellen Stone, Leah
Gilliland, Margaret Gilliland, Sara
Van Valzah and Virginia Smeal, of Clearfield; Bruce Hull, Mineral Springs; Louise Rouzeux, Curwens-
ville; Pansy Peters, Mineral Springs.

There is one thing the Contest Editor wishes to caution the contestants about; be sure your names are on your page. This week there were two very fine pages had to be thrown out because there was no name
either on the envelopes in which they were delivered to Progress office nor
was the name on the page. Be sure to watch this, whether you place name
on the envelope or not, be sure your

The Contest Editor is wondering if
there are no artists down around Mor-
risdale, Winburne, Allport, Kyrle-
town or Munson. There has not been
a single page turned in from that section and we would like to hear from
that country. Neither has there been a page turned in from around Glen Richey, O'Shanter or the section there abouts where the Progress has a wide circulation. Grampian has turned in a few but we would like to see more.
It does not matter where you live,
you have an equal chance with any
of the contestants. Color your pages
carefully, keep in the lines, ask your Mother or Dad about how the things
should be colored and if they don't work.

8 YEAR OLD BOY IS PAINFULLY HURT IN CRASH OF AUTOS

An eight year old boy was painfully
cut and bruised about the head and
face in an automobile wreck which occurred on the hill just beyond Blue
Ball about 5:30 last evening. Worrel
Jones was returning home from a business trip in the Houtdale region
in his car, while going down the hill
Lynn Tiedgen, of East End, swung
out to pass the Jones car and as he did so a car driven by a foreigner,
whose name we were unable to learn,
loomed up in front of him so close
that a collision could not be avoided
and the two cars went together head-
on with a bang.

The driver of the third car was accompanied by his wife and three children; and while all five were injured
and bruised, none in the smashup the
boy mentioned was most seriously hurt. Mr. Jones placed the boy in his car and hustled him over to the Mc-Girk sanitarium at Philipaburg,
where Dr. McGirk gave him medical attention. Both cars were considerably damaged.

and securing a postboard carton gathered up more than a peck of the hailstones and brought them down along
with him. When he reached the local station he turned them over to one
of the Yellow Cab drivers and asked him to take them to The Progress
office, which was done.

These hailstorms, when they arrived
here, many of them at least, were as large as the ends of the fingers of the writer which was some size for hail stones one hour after they had fallen
from the skies.

Now, ask them to buy one of the things or watch for the truck or wagon along the street.

Now, the Contest Editor likes to see
these coloring pages come into the office. And the judges do not care if there are two hundred to go over. Of course, it makes more work for them,
but every one of the judges is interested in the children and likes to see their efforts.

So come on with your pages next week. There will be some new pictures to color and you may be the lucky one. Just as the boys and girls were this week. Let's see if we can't have two hundred to look over next week.

right on his feet all the time—his appreciation of what the men had done and the splendid spirit shown by the citizens of the community cheering started again. He said it couldn't have been done had not every man working put his shoulder to the wheel so nobly the past two days, and that it was "the biggest thing that had ever happened in Clearfield—folks thought we were tackling the impossible."

He then thanked President Fulton, who also called the workers for what they had done and spoke of the large number of men who in various ways had made it possible for the successful conclusion of the campaign, the success of which could not have been possible without them.

Alfred B. Reed, one of the original members of the Association, who has been a director practically since its beginning, rose and spoke words of encouragement to the workers out of experience in the past and the possibilities of the future.

Each division chairman, "Pop" Wilson, Philip B. Reed, and "Doc" Frantz each in turn expressed their appreciation of the work done by their workers and the happiness that was theirs over the results.

Last but not least, Mr. Warner called upon "Hobe" Callahan, chairman of the executive committee, who also spoke in terms of appreciation and joy as to the outcome—and the loyal devotion of every one who had signed up to do his share in the campaign as a worker's contribution.

"Hobe" then reminded them of the fact that "he had a bottle of works that needed his attention for a few minutes" and that he was also going out to see that the park bonds for the new grandstand were finished up in the same way this campaign was finished.

Honors for the day go to Team No. 3 under S. L. McClure as captain, that team having in $2,515.50 and Team No. 5 under the leadership of Walter McClure turned in the largest number of subscriptions—44 in all for the campaign.

It was also interesting to know that one of the workers who he suspected of soliciting "Say, mister, will you like to contribute a quarter to this?" was the spirit that "put it over" on those who contributed big and small to the cause.

The executive committee and the board of directors as well as the workers are sure to thank everyone who in any way helped in the campaign, either as a contributor, worker, booster and friend, as well as The Progress that has given most generously of its space.

The day's report also shows what each division secured during the campaign.

Discover More Cars and Trucks Owned by Farmer

The United States Department of Agriculture recently discovered that 922 farmers in every 1,371 owned 1,000 automobiles and motor trucks.

It was shown furthermore that nine-tenths of these cars were farm business cars. Two-thirds were of the low-priced type and most of them were several years old. About one-fourth of the number were motor trucks, while the fancy roadsters, coupes and sedans composed less than 10 per cent of the total.

A few narrow-minded individuals still are howling that the farmer is doing too much joyriding. That he should look his car up in the barn and walk and enjoy some real prosperity after a few years, but only a few are howling in that key. Time is just as important to the man on the farm as it is to the man in the shop. He buys a motorcar because it saves time in cutting hay. His binder is faster than the cradle, and likewise his motorcar is faster than his team and his truck can haul more in less time than he formerly hauled with his horses. It's too bad, of course, that the motorcar can be used for pleasure occasionally. It gives the howlers an opportunity to howl, but let 'em howl. If using a motorcar for pleasure occasionally is a misfortune, we're glad to have it to contend with.

Even the bootleggers are using Blue Devil—it makes the moonshine.

Good Demand for Higher Grades of Beef Cattle

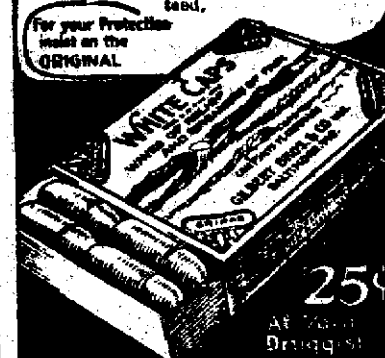

Cattle feeders who finish on grain for market fared very well during the past year, says the United States Department of Agriculture. Prior to the war cattle ranging in weight from 1,200 to 1,350 pounds were about 17 per cent above the price of range cattle. In 1922 cattle of this weight sold about 20 per cent above the price of range cattle. In 1922 good to prime cattle were about 50 per cent above the price of feeder steers, whereas in September, 1923, they ranged to about 70 per cent above. The high industrial activity has given a good market for good beef and has stimulated a demand for the higher grades of cattle which come finished from the feed lots of the corn belt.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

Pennsylvania voters will in November next again be called upon to decide whether they want a constitution to revise the state constitution.

citizens seem to be aware of the fact, which is the result of action taken at the last session of the legislature.

While the opponents of constitutional revision had hoped the calling of a convention would be avoided, the enactment of amendments as has been done in the past, the activity of the leaders of the Pennsylvania League of Women Voters was mainly responsible for the passage of the bill for another referendum on the convention issue.

Amendments to the present constitution which will be advertised and be up for second passage at the 1925 legislative session include:

A bond issue of $8,000,000 for Pennsylvania State College.

A bond issue of $5,000,000 for armories and equipment for the Pennsylvania National Guard.

Providing that amendments or supplements to law be clearly expressed in the title.

Seven hundred and thirty-three forest fires which burned 31,880 acres, caused damage estimated at $50,648 and cost $16,239 to extinguish were reported during the spring fire season. A preliminary report to the Pennsylvania State Department of Forests and Waters shows. The greatest number of fires, 223, occurred in the Weiser district. These burned over the greatest acreage, caused the most damage and cost the most to extinguish. And George H. Wirt, chief of

MISSISSIPPI AND 45 MEN KILLED

Mercy, then put to sea again to guard against injury to other shipping by other possible explosions.

The blast, accompanied by a roar of crimson fire and black smoke, ignited a powder bag of two guns in the second turret of the giant man-of-war. The gunners, many of them stripped to the waist, were thrown in a tangle of flying iron doors, heavy bolts and wreckage of the ironclad turret.

The Mississippi, accompanied by the Tennessee, Idaho and California, comprising a battle division under command of Rear Admiral William V. Pratt, was engaged in firing on targets towed by the California, when the explosion occurred off San Clemente island, more than 25 miles at sea.

While a dozen gunners in the ammunition room heroically turned water from emergency cocks on to a mass of unexploded powder near the flames which followed the explosion, the Mississippi was able to turn about and make this harbor under its own power.

As she neared the harbor a second explosion shook surrounding buildings.

A projectile had been placed by the dead gunners. It hurtled past the outgoing steamship Yale, crowded with passengers, missing the vessel by only a few yards. The unexploded projectile, a menace to navigation, had not been recovered today.

Eye witnesses of the sea tragedy told a harrowing story of the fearful blasting.

In the gun turret proper, where the accident occurred, there were 88 men, most of them engaged in ramming home the huge shells, which were followed into the guns by great sacks of T. N. T. as preparations were made for a broadside.

"Let her go," was the shout of the gunner in command.

There was a hitch.

Then a maelstrom of iron, steel, powder, fire and smoke entrapped the gunners.

Many of the men were blown to bits; others were fearfully maimed and died before rescuers reached them.

Ensign H. D. Smith was the first to reach the flaming turret. He was driven back time after time but finally succeeded in bringing a hose to the debris.

Rescuers then began bringing out the bodies of their comrades.

"Every hole and cranny in the turret belched hot fire and poison gas," said one of the rescued men. "While

the bureau of protection of the department, says it was only because of the wet spring that more fires were not recorded. We still have our forest fire prevention lessons to learn.

the other ships continued to fire their salvos, the stricken boat hastily displayed distress signal. Even we men on the deck did not know what had happened at first. The impact of the explosion was terrible and then we saw the damaged turret, half hidden in crimson black clouds of smoke and fire. The scenes that followed were awful. It was a panic as the pitiful

Many of the injured, it was learned today, are severely burned, and chances for recovery are slight. Because some of the gunners wore with out clothes the burning powder found their bodies quickly and seared them as they clambered out of the death pit to safety.

Among those saved is Ensign J. J. Levisour. He leaped from the shell deck, saving his life. He was badly bruised in his dive for life out of the mass of flames and smoke but none of his injuries is believed serious.

When a hole was cut into the turret to remove the bodies more than twenty burned corpses were found on top of the door.

Around the trap door were found the extended hands of the gunners—with bare fingers they had tried to claw their way from the lethal vault.

The body of Lieut. Thomas E. Zellars, of Long Beach, Calif., was the first removed from the turret. It was found at the water emergency cock of the turret's after-end.

Officers of the fleet said Zellars' last act, turning on the water, saved the Mississippi from destruction. The lever on which his hand rested in death controlled the doors leading to the powder magazine, as well as the flood water control.

Zellars' last act—pulling the powder magazine doors shut saved the lives of a thousand on the man of war. He was the hero of the sea tragedy.

Sowing Naked Oats Is Not Advisable

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

During the last fifty or sixty years, attractive advertisements have led farmers from time to time to try to grow naked or hull-less oats. The very fact that the naked oat has gained no foothold in American agriculture after repeated attempts to exploit it is sufficient proof of its inability to compete with the best common or hulled oats.

Until a few years ago the variety commonly exploited was the Chinese Hull-less, which is now found growing on sterile mountain sides at high altitudes in northern and western China. Recently, however, some new hybrid varieties have been developed by crossing the Chinese Hull-less on the common oat. Of these, the Liberty Hull-less, which was developed in Canada, has attracted the most attention. This new variety of naked oats has been grown on several of the field stations where the office of cereal investigations, bureau of plant industry, United States Department of Agriculture, is conducting experiments with oats. At no station has the yield of the Liberty Hull-less compared favorably with that of the best common varieties. In addition to being inferior in yield it is very susceptible to smut. It is necessary to treat the seed every year in order to avoid almost complete loss by smut.

While there is a small demand for oat kernels with out hulls for feeding squabs and young chickens, it apparently will be better economy to buy ordinary oats from which the hulls have been removed than to try to grow hull-less or naked oats. For feeding farm stock, except hogs, the hull usually is considered an advantage, rather than a detriment, as it lightens the ration and increases its bulk. Not until high-yielding, smut-resistant and otherwise better varieties of naked oats are developed, and available will it be possible to recommend this type of oat as a safe crop for the farmer to grow.

SULAC GIVEN CREDIT FOR RESTORING HEALTH

Remarkable New Remedy Continues Its Early Record of Sensational Successes.

Every mother who has seen her children suffer with indigestion, constipation and the other forms of stomach trouble that have compelled her to deny them the candy and sweets that other children thrive on will be interested in the following statement made by Mrs. Boyd Shick, of New Bethlehem:

"Ever since my boy was a baby he has been delicate and underweight. He has suffered constantly with his stomach, and constipation. Always took cold easily and nothing we ever did for him would make him gain weight or strength.

"Every time he would eat candy or sweets like the other 'kids' he would have a terrible spell. We have bought all kinds of medicines for him but they did not help. So far he has taken four bottles of Sulac and it has worked wonders with him. Indigestion and constipation are all gone, he eats anything he wants and is gaining weight right along. I can truthfully state that Sulac has done the work for him. I have recommended it to friends of mine and I am glad to tell anyone that Sulac is the best remedy I know of for stomach trouble and constipation.

Yours very truly,
Mrs. Boyd Shick,
New Bethlehem, Pa."

Sulac is a certified product of the Southern Laboratories of Atlanta Georgia, and was brought to Clearfield only after our enterprising druggists had convinced themselves of its wonderful success in other territories. It is highly recommended for constipation, heart burn, indigestion, gastritis, loss of appetite, stomach catarrh and other forms of stomach trouble.

You can try Sulac with absolutely no risk. Go to your druggist and buy six bottles. If after taking them you are not perfectly satisfied, ask for your money back. The manufacturers authorize your druggist to make this offer. Sulac is sold in Clearfield by Hunter's Drug store and high class druggists almost everywhere. If you happen to live in a town where it cannot be had, write direct to the Southern Laboratories, 59 Bogenia Street, Atlanta, Ga., and it will be sent you postpaid at the regular price of $1.00 per bottle.

FLORIDA IS WINNER OF LINDSLEY'S CUP

Florida enrolled the greatest percentage of the previous year's Legion membership on March 1. Through the generosity of Henry D. Lindsley of New York, past national commander of the Legion, the "Land of Flowers" will receive a handsome loving cup, presented by the donor to the department making this achievement.

The figures tabulated for the state show that on March 1 a total of 98.2 per cent had been enrolled of the total membership obtained on December 31, 1923. This is most unusual, and while Legion renewals are more advanced at this time by departments than in usual, Florida's feat shows effects of an earnest campaign.

The department of Mexico was not far behind the winning state, however, as it enrolled 92.2 per cent of those affiliating with the Legion during the previous year, and for a time it was thought that the foreign department had surpassed the winner. In a second group, the department of Wisconsin took third place with 73.4 per cent, while Oregon was but a single point behind the Badger state for fourth place. Other departments enrolling more than 50 per cent of the 1923 membership were announced to

and in the following order: South Dakota, Tennessee, South Carolina, Iowa, North Dakota, Alaska, Vermont, Oregon, Wyoming, Kentucky, New Hampshire, Idaho and Nevada.

Commander Lindsley's offer of the cup was made in order to spur the departments to early renewal of membership. The award was not announced until the January meeting of the executive committee, and little or no time elapsed for the various departments to prepare any specific drive.

Legion leader has taken a great interest in Legion affairs. In addition to his position as past national commander, he has been president of several departments, a simplification of the Legion on a national basis which he hopes to see accomplished in the near future. He is a member of the Legion, and his work of the past year has been a success. The Legion has been the best of the Legion, and his work of the past year has been a success. The Legion has been the best of the Legion, and his work of the past year has been a success.

At a recent meeting of Legionnaires at a well-known member, it was decided to finance the land colonization plan. More than four hundred and fifty acres, costing $3,000,000, have already been bought for veterans who are citizens of the state. Twelve hundred applications for purchase of land and farms have been received, and it is believed that a total of $10,000,000 available will be exhausted by the time these applications are filled.

His Post Finds Auto Show Brings Returns

An automobile show in Jackson, O., found to be a profitable undertaking for the American Legion post of that city. Jackson has less than 6,000 inhabitants. Dealers were pleased with the results of the show when only fifty automobiles were sold or traded for during the show. In addition to the automobile display, local manufacturers, churches, fraternal organizations and merchants displayed. The post netted nearly $100 from the show.

Early Chicks Are Most Profitable

Practical Suggestions Regarding Successful Feeding and Raising.

Early hatched chicks are by far the most profitable, whether grown to maturity for laying or sold as poultry meat, says the United States Department of Agriculture, and the following suggestions in regard to the successful raising and feeding of young chicks have been found to be practical.

The brooder house and stove heater which are used for caring for the chicks during the first few weeks of their lives must be in working order before the chicks arrive. The most common style of brooding is the use of a stove brooder in a colony house, keeping from 350 to 500 chicks in a flock in each house and placing the houses about 150 feet apart on a good grass range. A house 10 by 14 feet makes a suitable colony house which can be readily moved if built on runners. Chicks brooded early in the season will do better in a large house, about 10 by 20, partitioned so that one side is used for a brooder stove and the other for a cool exercising room. Wire netting should be placed in the corners of the brooder house to prevent the chicks from huddling and crowding in the corners.

Feed Chicks Sparingly.

Chicks should not be fed for the first 24 to 48 hours, after which they should be supplied regularly four or five times daily with easily digested feed which contains little waste material. They should be fed sparingly until about the fifth day, when they can be put on full ration. An excellent feed can be made of infertile eggs taken from the incubator, boiled for 15 minutes, chopped, and mixed with a dry mash of equal parts of cracker meal, bran and cornmeal, using a sufficient amount of the grain to make a dry, crumbly mixture. Dry rolled oats are excellent for chicks and can be used as one feed; the other two or three feeds being the commercial grains.

At two weeks of age the chicks can be given a dry mash in a hopper, consisting of four parts, by weight, of rolled oats, two parts bran, two parts cornmeal, one part high-grade meat scrap, one part middlings and one-half part dried, hatched, commercial chick feed. In addition to the dry mash, milk is an excellent feed for chicks and should be provided either as a liquid or in the dry form to secure the best growth.

Feed Coarse Grain.

When the chicks are one month old they should be fed a coarser or intermediate chick grain, and at about two months of age the scratch feed can be changed to equal parts of wheat and cracked corn, fed two or three times a day.

Work With Pest Poisons Seen in Motion Picture

"Poison," a one-reel education motion picture visualizing the activities of the insecticide and fungicide board, has been recently released by the United States Department of Agriculture.

The film shows the numerous ways in which the American farmer, the greatest user of chemicals in the world, employs poisons of various sorts to destroy insect pests and diseases which attack his crops and live stock, and how the insecticide and fungicide board protects the public against fraudulent materials by examining all insecticide and fungicide offered for sale in interstate shipments. Various laboratory scenes illustrate the chemical analyses given the materials, and field scenes show how the worth of the "poison" is determined by actual tests.

The seizure of "fake" materials, which not only fail to "cure" but often cause enormous losses by actually injuring plant or animal, and the punishment of their purveyors, are also included in the film, which sounds a warning to users of insecticides and fungicides to beware of untested poisons and to use only tried and proved articles.

"Poison" will be circulated through the educational film service of the department and the co-operating state institutions. Copies may be borrowed for short periods or may be purchased at the laboratory charge.

Farmers Are Beginning to Find Value of Sudan

Farmers are just beginning to realize the value of sudan grass for feed. Sow broadcast or put in with a drill, about twenty pounds to the acre, and don't put it in too deep—about one inch is right. This will make a fine temporary pasture for hogs. It keeps coming up just like alfalfa does, and the more it is eaten down the more it starts up. You can turn in on it about the middle of June and from then on until frost in the fall, it gives a wonderful amount of feed. Put in with a fluster and cultivated as corn, it stools more readily and makes good hay for horses and cattle. Use about two or three pounds to the acre; it makes more hay and better hay and is a surer yielder than any other quick crop you can use. It will cut from two to four crops a season.

Sudan grass being an annual, and having fibrous roots similar to wheat or oats, is easily controlled and eradicated as millet. Sudan is a good seed crop, too.

The Freedom of Occupational Choice Should Be Zealously Safeguarded

By E. E. WINDES, U. S. Bureau of Education.

Freedom of occupational choice is an outstanding characteristic of our American civilization and a condition to be zealously safeguarded. Individual migration in response to occupational opportunity has largely determined the ceaseless shifting of population in the United States.

So long as we can keep the road to free occupational choice open, hope and stimulation to effort will not be lacking; unrest and destructive revolution will not seriously menace, economic forces will balance vocational groups, and the need for governmental interference will not become acute.

One who realizes that the occupational misfit is a danger to society, that an occupational misfit is relatively unproductive because the keen stimulation of working toward a self-chosen end is lacking; that an occupational misfit is a discontented man, ripe for propaganda, inciting to violent acts against the established order; that an occupational misfit is an unhappy man, and organized society is not justified in contributing to such a lot, will insist that the school concern itself largely with education for occupation.

You Must Go to School, for Your Country and for the Government

By WILLIAM M'ANDREW, Chicago School Superintendent.

It took us schoolmasters until the time of Woodrow Wilson to wake up to the idea that the old notion of education which had existed before the Revolution should have been changed when the American Revolution came in. Why? Because the object of education in the old European days was for the individual, my advancement, and it was for the higher born.

We linked together two words, gentleman and scholar, and what was a gentleman? If one came in how could you recognize him? By the lace collar around his neck, by the lace on his sleeves, by his long hair, and this costume meant I cannot sweat, I am a gentleman, I do no work with my hands, and that built up an education that was suited for that kind of costume, a white collar, white cuff education which was for those of superior rank.

In my boyhood days it was considered a privilege to go to school, and if you did not behave you could be suspended. Then, by degrees, we put in the compulsory education law, which means now it is a duty for you to go to school, you must go to school. What for? For yourself? No, but for your country and the government. You ask a boy, as he sits on the front seat, what he is going to school for and the answer is not in order that he may learn, in order that he may get ahead, but he is going to school in order that he may serve his country. For it is his country that is paying for his education.

Have you found permanent relief from that terrible disease—constipation? The woman whose letter follows discovered—as thousands have discovered—that Kellogg's Bran succeeds when all else fails. This is because Kellogg's Bran is ALL Bran. Nothing but ALL Bran can be so effective. This is what she wrote:

"Gentlemen: I am so wonderfully happy over my discovery, I feel I must tell the world about it. For years I have been ill continually from constipation, always resorting to pills or the like, never having any permanent relief until I heard of your Krumbled Bran. Every morning I take two tablespoonfuls before my breakfast, and since the latter part of August I must admit have not experienced one sick spell which I have had for years. I have started my little girl at four years on your Bran, and already I have noticed a change in her. I thank you very much. Name and address furnished on request. Write the Kellogg Co., Battle Creek, Mich."

If eaten regularly, Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is guaranteed to relieve permanently the most chronic cases of constipation. Eat at least two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Money returned if not effective.

Notice the wonderful nut-like flavor. This flavor is delicious—so different from ordinary unpalatable bran.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, made in Battle Creek, is served by America's leading hotels and clubs. Demand Kellogg's Bran. It will bring back your health. Start eating it today. Sold by all grocers.

Surely "Some" Luncheon.

A young novelist who recently called to England to see a dramatization of a novel was given a luncheon before the boat sailed. It was quite a luncheon, too, but his friends managed to get him to the ship. About midnight he awakened and the only light was the light of the moon that came through a port-hole. He gazed out of it in fascination for about half an hour, and then, quite wildly, for the deck steward, "Steward," he said, standing unsteadily, "what's the idea of all this water?"—New York Correspondence Indianapolis Star.

Joint-Ease For Burning Feet

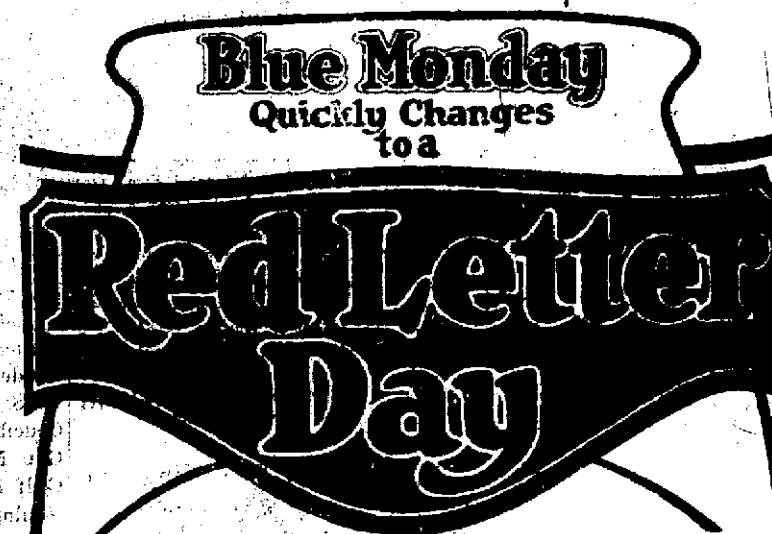

Now that we know that aching, burning feet are caused by troubles in the small bones of the arches of the feet.

And that trouble can only be reached by a special, active emollient that soaks right in through skin and flesh, and acts to the joints and ligaments.

Isn't it about time to discard powders and medicated baths that only reach the outside of the skin? And rub on Joint-Ease first in 10 minutes, starting to scratch and heat the inside of the foot, and cause soreness and burning.

Rub it on tonight and if there is any burning left in the morning, it won't be enough to bother.

Seventy mail clerks, all armed, were aboard the special train carrying eight mail cars and two express coaches, but no effort at resistance was met by the bandits.

The train had been on its way less than an hour when two of the gang, who had ridden the blind baggage door from Chicago crawled over the tender and warned the engineer to stop the train when two red signal flares were seen. After its stop the train was backed so that the cars containing the most valuable mail were at a grade crossing where four cars of armed bandits were waiting.

The car halted across the roadway was the one containing federal reserve currency and bond shipments for Milwaukee, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Helena, Butte, Seattle and Spokane.

It's clerk, Louis Phillips, of Minneapolis, refused to open the doors but a chlorine gas bomb smashed against a grating window and the fumes drove him choking to the door.

The stocky leaders of bandits put on a gas mask. He gave Phillips another.

"Help me find the pouches I want, or I'll kill you" he directed pleasantly.

The bandits forced the mail clerks to carry the pouches from three cars to the waiting automobiles.

Fifty-three members of the crew were taken from the train when it reached Milwaukee after the robbery. Seventeen others were taken into custody at St. Paul this morning.

Only two clues to aid in the search for the bandits had been found early today, according to authorities. These were a stolen automobile, found abandoned in Chicago, and a mail sack which had been rifled. This had been thrown into a clump of bushes near the scene of the holdup.

Germer commenting on the nicety with which the robbery was carried was carried out, pointed out that only three of the eleven cars in the train were entered. The other eight, evidently known to carry no registered pouches, were left alone.

"These men knew exactly what to take and what to leave alone," Germer said. "The robbers very evidently knew just what was valuable in the train and what cars carried the more than a million dollar cargo."

That, he said, was sufficient to indicate to him an inside job.

Inspector William Fahy expressed belief that the same men who engineered the theft of $150,000 at Harvey, Ill., from a train and again later obtained $100,000 at Harvey, are responsible for the latest crime. Both Germer and Fahy expressed fear of further robberies.

FOREIGN WAR VETS HOLD CONVENTION IN BRADFORD JUNE 9TH

Bradford, Pa., June 13 (INS).—The Fifth Annual Encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, Department of Pennsylvania, will convene here on June 19, 20 and 21.

An elaborate program of entertainment in conjunction with the business sessions has been arranged, including a big clam bake, military parade, Mardi-Gras, dances, baseball games, boxing matches, band concerts and sight seeing trips to nearby points of interest.

Many distinguished military men throughout the State are expected to attend the encampment including Major Charles Muir, regular army, who commanded the famous 28th Division in France; Major General William E. Price the present commander of the 21st Division, Pennsylvania National Guard; Major General George Richards, Chief of the Militia Bureau at Washington, D. C. former commander of the 112th Infantry during the World war; Major General Brett, regular army, National Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States; Richard J. Walsh, Department Commander of Pennsylvania Veterans of Foreign Wars; H. D. Myers, Department Adjutant and Robert Woodside, Sheriff of Allegheny County and former National Commander of the V. F. W.

Judge Frederick P. Schoonmaker of the Federal Court, and Lieutenant Colonel of the 112th Pennsylvania Infantry head the general committee of arrangements as chairman while Major Joseph R. Carvill of the same military unit is vice-chairman.

The Military Order of Cooties of the V. F. W. will exemplify the second degree on a class of candidates.

The Bradford Chamber of Commerce and the Bradford Automobile Association are assisting the general committee in their plans to make this convention the most successful one yet held. Housing accommodations are being provided for visitors. Many posts throughout the state are coming in "convoys" of "fleets" of automobiles and will camp on specially selected sites.

Edythe and Evelyn Underwood are home from Portage Pa., to spend the summer.

on Labor Day.

For some time past there has been considerable howling and yowling from the vicinity of Houtdzdale and an investigation committee reporting that a lot of lousy, mangy pups up there desired to be admitted to the charmed inner circle of this evanescent, effervescent, apocalyptic order. A ukase was issued by Chief Cur Norris to the effect that a pilgrimage would be made to Houtdzdale sometime in the near future, when the Dog Star's beams were shooting in the right direction, for the purpose of initiating those desiring affiliation with the order. The exact date will be announced in a few days.

Best Equipped Mine.
The Britannia colliery, South Wales, is considered by expert mining engineers to be the most modern and best equipped in the world. It is worked solely by electrical power, and is probably the only colliery in the kingdom which does not use horses and does not raise a ton of rubbish.

Chief Cur Grant Norris presided at a well-attended meeting of the Yellow Dogs, held in the Curwensville opera house last evening. A number of Clearfield names, among whom were "Pop" and Joe Wilson and Ed Bird, were inducted into the mystifying and mysterious realms of Yellow Dogdom and are henceforth eligible to associate with the most elite canine society.

Plans for the further improving of beautiful Irwin Park were discussed while information concerning the coming Labor Day celebration to be given by the Yellow Dogs at Curwensville was imparted to the assembly.

This Celebration is destined to be an epoch in Curwensville's history and the proceeds from same will be used for the upbuilding of Irwin Park.

Curwensville's Own Column

One of the worst and most destructive hail storms that has visited this section for years passed through this valley yesterday afternoon. Hail stones fell as large as walnuts and as hard as iron nuggets. Gardens were rimmed to a finish and all plants utterly ruined. A strong and high wind accompanied the hail and many trees were trimmed of their foliage. Fruit trees in the back of the storm were damaged to such an extent that they will not bear half a crop. A great amount of damage done by the storm is attributable to the fact that it is impossible to replace the plants destroyed.

Chief Clerk and the sub-officers having had at all times, are over all the streets and highways of the town, have been permitted to go to their homes. Five of the stray lambs have already been spotted and hamstrung. Hereafter, a dog cannot run at large and being accompanied by the owner. If he is not at once, he will be taken to the pound. It is the duty of the police to keep their dogs from running at large.

In our ramble up the state road today, from noon we happened to turn away toward the south side of the creek and discovered that a number of old time sheds which stood at the old Jenkins farm point had been torn down. An investigation which no doubt meets the approval of those who have lived here for years.

Landslide To Lowden Failed To Change Mind

only occasionally strike out with the weapon of a personal appearance before an audience.

Convention Hall, Cleveland, June 12.—Coolidge and Dawes is the Republican ticket for 1924.

President Coolidge's nomination was accomplished with only a ripple of dissent from Wisconsin and North Dakota, but the nomination of his running mate came only after the convention had once selected a man and had been forced by his declaration to choose another—Charles G. Dawes, the "Hell and Maria" general.

After a short race with Secretary Herbert Hoover, who came into the balloting after the declaration of Lowden, Dawes galloped away with the nomination.

Motion to make it unanimous and by acclamation was disturbed only by the dissent of Wisconsin and North Dakota.

In a brief and spectacular fight in which William Butler, President Coolidge's campaign manager, had said to Senator Reed, "it must be Hoover" and Senator Reed had replied "it cannot be done; it must be Dawes," the Dawes supporters marshaled their forces and put the general across.

Earlier in the day Mr. Butler's forces had passed the word that the administration men desired the nomination of Theodore Burton, of Ohio, and in the voting which followed the supporters of Frank O. Lowden ran away with the nomination for their man to have him to decline it. The nomination of Dawes came as a climax to one of the most spectacular scenes in Republican Party history, in which the convention once having nominated a candidate was obliged to undo its work, and select another.

He Will Accept
Marietta, O., June 12.—Brigadier General Dawes, tonight accepted the nomination:

"I accept the nomination by the Republican party for the vice presidency" he said in a formal statement when informed of his nomination by the Associated Press. "I deeply appreciate the honor conferred."

Earlier in the night when it appeared that Mr. Dawes would be nominated, his brother, B. G. Dawes, said he thought his brother would accept the nomination. The general was out automobile riding at that time.

The vice presidential nominee had returned to his old home here this week to attend the 40th reunion of his class at Marietta College, from which he was graduated. He remained here sieve work of many residential roofs. West and east of Curwensville the storm does not appear to have done any damage at all, the wind and hail coming from the north.

The school board intend having a new steam heating system installed in the Locust street building. Heretofore dry heat had been used, but it has not proved satisfactory at any time, and now the old system has gone to the dogs entirely.

Cleveland, June 12.—After having been nominated for the vice presidency by a landslide of votes Frank O. Lowden again declined.

No such situation has even prevailed in the history of the party.

Nominated in a landslide of votes after the administration forces had sent out the word for the nomination of Theodore Burton, of Ohio, Lowden was chosen in an avalanche of votes.

No movie thriller ever gave its audience a more sensational windup than did this Republican convention that met so dramatically and calmly days ago to nominate Calvin Coolidge.

Sharply pointed daggers were still flying thick and fast today among the organization leaders over the race that resulted in the nomination of Frank O. Lowden and his subsequent rejection of the nomination.

The first time in the history of major political parties that a man has turned down such a high honor once his friends have conferred it on him. Harsh words were exchanged concerning the Lowden nomination between William M. Butler, the President's personally selected campaign manager, and organization leaders from New York and Pennsylvania, whose dramatic act in throwing their strength to Lowden at the end of the second ballot on the vice presidency, resulted in Lowden's nomination.

Not did the organization leaders on the floor, perspiring in the midst of milling delegates, take kindly to the efforts of Butler on the platform, to try to force the nomination of Herbert Hoover after Lowden had returned the crown with a tart message that snatched of weariness over having to repeat the "no" so many times.

Butler's effort to put over Hoover was promptly met with the nomination of Dawes. It was accomplished by organization leaders from New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and scattering southern and western states.

Probably the most dramatic incident of the convention was when Butler left the platform and went on the floor a few minutes before the final ballot.

The floor managers were as tired as the delegates, probably more so. They had been getting orders all day, conflicting orders, first on this man and then for that, involving the political destinies of half dozen men—Borah of Idaho, Kenyon of Iowa, Curtis of Kansas, Burton, of Ohio, Sanders of Indiana, Hoover of California—and they were heartily tired of orders.

Some of these they would not follow and they appealed to President Coolidge at the White House by long stage telephone.

They refused to take Kenyon of Iowa, even though Butler assured them that he was the White House choice. They had had the stage set for Borah upon Butler's orders and then Borah turned down the nomination. They themselves had set the stage for Curtis, only to have Butler turn out the lights on them. They had tried to set the stage again for Sanders, after talking with President Coolidge from a telephone in the basement, but the delegates demurred.

They had never heard of Sanders. Then came the dramatic climax of the convention, getting out of hand and nominating Lowden.

Butler sought out Senator David A. Reed of Pennsylvania, just as the Chairman was rapping for final session into order.

Hoover, he said.

"It's too late," replied Reed. He planned to where Andrew Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury sat imperiously at the head of the 79 delegates from the Keystone state.

"It's too late," repeated Reed, "It's Dawes, and on the first ballot."

Butler stalked back to the platform, his face reddening.

And it was Dawes—on the first ballot. Senator Walter E. Edge, of New Jersey, who headed the 31 delegates from that state, had previously refused to be swayed from Dawes.

"The New Jersey delegation is tired of taking orders" was his tart message to the platform.

Dawes got 68 3/4 votes, according to the official count. Hoover received 24 1/2, the largest single unit of which was the 39 delegates from Butler's state of Massachusetts. Even

Guineas Good Protection Against Hawks and Crows

Guineas are kept on many farms as a protection against chicken hawks, crows, etc., in the daytime, and as a night alarm against predatory persons and animals.

A flock of six to eight breeding birds is about right for the average farm. These should be replaced about every two years, at which age their usefulness as breeders practically ends.

Guineas usually mate in pairs, although a male will sometimes mate with two or three females. Better results in hatching will be obtained, however, if equal numbers of males and females are kept. During the breeding season the male will often be found sitting on the nest in the absence of the hen, and with her if the nest is large.

Feeding of Sugar Beets Is Not Economical Plan

Roots are palatable, succulent and laxative but are low in protein and calcium. The sugar beet is one of the most palatable of the root crops fed to swine. Trials, however, have shown that the value of the sugar beet for fattening swine is so low that it is a very uneconomical feed. Occasionally it may prove profitable to turn the hogs into the field and harvest the beets in that manner but as a general thing the feeding of sugar beets is not economical.

Free of Tuberculosis

There are now in the United States, according to a statement by the Department of Agriculture, more than 23,000 herds of cattle fully accredited by the government as being free of tuberculosis. Indiana has the largest number of these herds, 4,160. Wisconsin stands next with 3,967, and Minnesota third with 3,073.

Farm Hints

Ice harvested in winter spells sweet cream in summer.

We must preserve the birds if we would save humankind.

Test every ear of corn, if you have saved your seed corn. If not, buy only tested seed of high germination.

A problem soon to be undertaken by the Department of Agriculture is to standardize grades of live stock, meats and wool.

Speltz (white emmer) will give good yields on a fertile piece of black clay loam. This crop is highly esteemed as a poultry feed.

Acid phosphate is such a little wonderworker that many farmers say that with manure it's all the plant food their land needs.

With things so high, the farmer who puts out a good garden for next summer is likelier to be well repaid, even if not a thing is sold out of it.

Farming is an old story. It occupies a position whether a man can follow it or not depends upon him. It alone, in his respect, farming is not different from other open occupations.

Snowdrop, Nutritious

The "chick" in the corner of spring, the English snowdrop appears to owe its introduction into England to the Benedictine monks who discovered that the roots of the snowdrop possessed properties nutritious enough to merit their cultivation near their monastery.

Keep Out Rain

NUMETAL WEATHERSTRIPS KEEP OUT DRIVING RAINS

It takes perfectly fitting windows and doors to keep out a driving rain. And if you are building a new home or have built some time ago, you should have your home equipped with NUMETAL weather strips.

You can apply them yourself. You can have it done. And the price is so low that you cannot afford to take a chance on having plaster or possibly a fine rug ruined by getting wet. Ask us to demonstrate.

Spider Catches Fish

Some spiders have been known to kill birds and most of them in catch flies easily, but in South Africa there is a fish-eating spider that captures fish that are as much as four times its size and weight. The spider is known as the Theridion species, and it is found near Natal. It measures about three inches across the legs.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

OUR NEED OF IODINE

For several generations the medical profession has held iodine in high regard as a medicine. In the treatment of certain chronic systemic disorders, it is almost indispensable, yet until recently no one had the slightest idea as to how or why the drug produced the observed effects. The improvement of patients to whom it was administered was often unequivocal and obvious; but in attempting to explain the action of the drug the physician had to fall back upon such meaningless terms as "blood-purifier," "alterative," and "obstruent."

In recent years, however, a clue has been gained to the manner of action of the mysterious agent, through the discovery that iodine in exceedingly small quantities is a normal constituent of the human body, and that the thyroid gland is the organ in which it is chiefly stored.

The normal functioning of the thyroid gland appears to be absolutely dependent upon its iodine supply, and the thyroid secretion has an important influence over every tissue and organ of the body. The medicinal administration of iodine may directly stimulate the action of the thyroid, and thereby improve the nutritional conditions of the bodily organs.

One of the most direct and unequivocal signs of an iodine shortage in the body is usually to be gained from examination of the thyroid gland itself, and consideration of the symptoms known to be associated with thyroid disturbance. Most laymen are familiar with the word "goiter," implying an enlargement of the thyroid gland.

There are certain regions where goiter is particularly prevalent, and it is supposed that the drinking water of such regions must contain some toxic property. Latterly, however, the common has gained ground that the trouble is due not to anything present in the water, but to the absence of iodine. This theory has recently been put to an experimental test on a large scale through a survey conducted by the State of Michigan's Department of Health.

The results, as outlined in a preliminary report by the Health Commissioner, are exceedingly interesting. They appear to be the closest relation between the percentage of iodine in the water supply and the prevalence of goiter. Where iodine is present in excessive quantity, goiter is rare; and as iodine decreases goiter increases proportionately.

It is noted that at Mount Clemens, where the water supply shows 25 parts per million of iodine, and 26 per cent of the children have enlarged thyroids; while at Romeo, only 12 parts per million of iodine shows no trace of goiter; 50 parts per million, and 75 per cent of the children have enlarged thyroids. It is not possible to predict the results of the chemist's reports as to the iodine content of the water. Goiter cases are, therefore, no longer a mystery.

There is no reference in the platform to the Ku Klux Klan, but a clause with the statement that "any sect or order or creed which assaults or seeks, openly or covertly to impair this inalienable right of religious freedom is to be condemned and resisted as a menace to organized society."

The platform ends with the statement that the convention "salutes the spirit of Woodrow Wilson and acclaims his covenant of peace with the world."

FLAG DAY EXERCISES WILL BE AT 5:30 P. M.

The flag day exercises to be given by Clearfield Lodge of Elks at the Court House square this evening at 5:30 o'clock will be both beautiful and impressive and well worth witnessing. The officers of the lodge will have charge of the ceremonies and will exemplify the flag day ritual of the Elks. The Elks lodge is one of our leading American patriotic organizations and place special stress upon loyalty and respect for the flag throughout all their lodge services and were largely influential in having flag day made a national holiday.

Congressman William I. Swoope who was scheduled to make the address of the evening has cancelled his date here to address an audience at Bellefonte, his former home, and the Hon. A. R. Chase will speak in Mr. Swoope's place.

The public generally is invited to witness the ceremonies.

OPENING OF CAMP SPIMBO WILL BE DELAYED

Announcement was made at the Y this morning that Camp Spimbo for Clearfield boys will be postponed for a few days on account of the cool, wet weather opening June 25th and probably only continuing for one week. Real warm days are necessary for a successful camp and the weather man has promised more comfortable conditions around this date. It will also give the boys a chance to see the circus on the 23rd, and one day to make final preparations. A good number have already registered, the majority for one week only.

WEAK, RUN DOWN AFTER SICKNESS

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Mrs. Dube Well and Strong

E. Hartford, Conn.—"After a severe sickness I was so weak that I could not do my housework, so my mother told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The first bottle helped me so much that I took six more bottles and felt fine. I have just given birth to a nice baby girl and am feeling strong and well. So different from the way I felt before. I am taking the Vegetable Compound right along while nursing. The baby seems to be in good health, and my friends say they see a big change for the better in me."—Mrs. EUGENIE DUBE, 59 Woodbridge Street, East Hartford, Connecticut.

The Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine to bring back health and strength. Many mothers have found this true, as did Mrs. Dube. Ask some of your neighbors and friends, for there are women everywhere who know by experience the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts, for a free copy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women."

TWO FIVE SHOWS HERE NEXT WEEK

Manager Hartman of the Driggs theatre has booked two unusually good attractions for his playhouse for the coming week in "Grumpy" and "The Eternal City."

"Grumpy" with Theodore Roberts, May McAvoy and Conrad Nagle in the lead roles is the story of a gruff, hard-boiled old man who under the most has a heart that really is very, very soft towards a young couple whom he has seen fit to befriend. There is a very pretty love story running through the scenario and there are numerous exciting situations. "Grumpy" was the last picture made by Mr. Roberts before he started to portray the leading role in "The 10 Commandments."

"The Eternal City" is the Robert Flimmarie version of the famous novel by Hall Caine. It is brought down to modern times and the entire scenes were filmed in sunny Italy. The cast includes such shining lights as Rex Lytell, Barbara Lamarr, Lionel Barrymore, Richard Bonnet and Montagu Love, who alone would make a mighty fine picture out of an ordinary theme.

1. The Return From Captivity Predicted (Jer. 29:10-14). It seems that false prophets were flourishing in Babylon, telling the people that they would speedily be restored to their own land. To counteract this the Lord moved Jeremiah to send a letter to the captives in Babylon (Jer. 29:1-10). In this letter he advised them to settle down and quietly pursue their regular callings of life and not to be led astray by false prophets.

2. The Length of the Captivity (v. 10). Their coming back was to be "after seventy years." From Daniel 9:2 it is clear that seventy years means a definite time. It dates from the time when the first captivity was taken captive among which Daniel was found.

3. The Prediction of Captivity Fulfilled (Ezra 1:1-11).

1. The Proclamation of Cyrus (vv. 1-11). This was not by accident, but that the word of the Lord might be fulfilled (v. 1). God never forgets. What He has promised He will do. It was by divine initiation—the Lord stirred up the spirit of Cyrus in his proclamation he ordered that all who desired should go back and build the house of the Lord God, and those who lacked this inclination should lend assistance by making gifts of silver, gold and beasts.

2. The Response to Cyrus' Proclamation (vv. 5, 6). The company which returned was largely made up of representatives of Judah and Benjamin.

3. Royal Favours (vv. 7-11). Cyrus brought forth the vessels of the house of the Lord which Nebuchadnezzar had carried away from Jerusalem and placed in the house of his gods. This, no doubt, greatly encouraged the Jews, for there were 5,400 vessels returned.

III. The Temple Rebuilt (Ezra 3:1-13).

1. The Foundation Laid. This was an auspicious occasion and was celebrated with impressive ceremonies.

(1) The priests in their apparel (v. 10). The priests, as symbols, symbolized their consecration to the Lord's service.

(2) The priests with trumpets (v. 10). These trumpets were made of silver and were used in calling the people together.

(3) The Levites in symbols (v. 10). These were to furnish the instrumental music of the sanctuary, in accordance with the arrangements made by David (1 Chron. 15:10-21).

(4) They sang together by course (v. 11). This means that they sang to one another responsively. The one company sang, "The Lord is good." The other responded, "For his mercy endureth forever."

(5) Mingled weeping and shouting (vv. 12, 13). Some of the older men, who had seen the magnificent and glorious temple of Solomon, which had been destroyed, wept much when they saw how far short the present foundations came from the former temple.

2. The Building Hindered (Ezra 4). The leading adversaries were the Samaritans, a mongrel people, the offspring of the poor Jews who were left in Palestine and the foreign people who were sent into Palestine after the Jews were taken captive.

(1) An unskillful people (Ezra 4:13). Under the circumstances this was a glorious beginning and gave promise of great things for the future. Therefore it was no credit to the priests, Levites and chief of the fathers to mar this occasion with their weeping.

(2) Worldly compromise (Ezra 4:2, 3). They said, "Let us build with you, for we seek your God." This is Satan's most common and effective method today.

(3) Open opposition by the world (Ezra 4:24). When refused a part in the work open opposition was resorted to.

3. The Temple Finished (Ezra 5:1-6; 6:1-16). Through the ministry of the Prophets Haggai and Zechariah the people were encouraged to resume the work of building the temple.

IV. The Temple Dedicated (Ezra 6:16-22). The people were united in this building program and came together upon its completion and solemnly dedicated it to God.

The Executive
According to an efficiency expert, an executive is a man who decides things in a hurry and sometimes gets them right.

True Courtesy
True courtesy contributes fully as much enjoyment to the giver as to the receiver.

Aim to Win
"If you cannot win make the one ahead break the record!"

May you saw it in The Progress.

Told of John Burroughs.

John Burroughs, the naturalist, was not interested in nature a larger aspect. Geysers and volcanoes bored him. His one exception was the Grand Canyon of the Colorado, which he called "the Divine Abyss." Despite his interest in study when a boy, Burroughs was fond of girls, and kept a systematic record of his engagements with them, writers on his life say.

BIRD'S ROOFS

A Roof for Every Purpose

There's a Bird roof for every sort of building!

1. NEPONSET TWIN SHINGLES—for homes, churches, garages, clubs. They are beautiful, durable and waterproof. Are extra large, extra heavy, have extra asphalt waterproofing, extra coating and extra red, green or blue black slate surfacing.

2. SHINGLE DESIGN Roll Roofing—for smaller houses, garages, sheds, farm buildings—a thrift combination of good looks, serviceability and real economy.

Comes with natural red or green slate surfacing and looks like asphalt shingles from across the street. May be laid right over your old wooden shingles.

3. PAROID Roofing—for farm buildings, barns, sheds, garages, warehouses and industrial buildings. It is sturdy and handsome. Has a distinctive, durable bright-gray surfacc.

Has been in use for over a quarter century—a significant record of performance.

Ask us to recommend the proper Bird roof for your individual use. Our advice is cheerfully given without charge.

Bird's Roofings are made by Bird & Son, Inc. (Est. 1796), manufacturers of Neponset Black Building Paper and Neponset Board.

We are headquarters for Bird's roofings, building papers and wall board.

Plenty of Milk Brings Physical And Mental Health

With every necessary dietary element in milk to bring your bodily and mental standard up to a much greater efficiency, you will find that after you have placed milk among the main articles of your menu, you are feeling a great uplift.

Nature decreed that milk should be the first food for most animals and all mankind. Nature, in her all-wise providence, knew that her foresight in providing such a food as milk, which contains every vital food element, would have a food ready for the infancy that would give the young a wonderful start in life.

And Nature has continued to provide this wonderful food, milk, all down thru time to the present. We have this food for you and can increase the amount we serve to your home every morning. If you will start drinking more milk or use more milk in your cooking, you will soon notice you are feeling better in body and mind.

It's what Oakland gives for $995 that counts

Bear these facts in mind in choosing a car:

1. Be sure that the engine in the car you choose incorporates the very latest design and construction.
2. Be sure you get the latest braking system. Four-wheel brakes are safer. Don't buy a car without them.
3. Ordinary body finishes are perishable and easily marred. Get the facts about Oakland's new finish.
4. Observe whether driving controls are convenient. Compare other cars with Oakland in this respect.
5. The tendency is toward a more substantial top for open cars. Examine cars with this point in mind.
6. Although disc steel wheels are superior, most builders in this class make you pay extra for them.
7. Note the body design and workmanship of cars in this class. Are bodies attractive and substantial?

Here are the advantages Oakland offers:

1. Oakland's engine is the latest in advanced design. Automotive engineers praise its construction.
2. The Oakland Six has four-wheel brakes at no added cost. They are sound in principle and practice.
3. Oakland alone, in its class, has a special new finish which will not check nor lose its lustre.
4. Oakland's controls—all of them except gear shift—are on the steering wheel; an exclusive feature.
5. Everyone likes Oakland's permanent top. Curtains fit better and glass enclosures can be added.
6. All True Blue Oakland have disc steel wheels at no extra cost. They are better looking and safer.
7. Oakland's seven distinctive bodies are Fisher-built. Everyone comments on their smart appearance.

The True Blue Oakland is built and priced to be the leading value in its field.

School Children's Coloring Contest---224 Prizes

$170 in Cash 160 Theatre Tickets --- 10 Each Week

IT IS EASY TO WIN---THERE ARE 14 PRIZES EACH WEEK

Little Artists, here is a page that will interest you. It offers an opportunity to show your ability and to use your artistic "knack" to win prizes. It's lots of fun, and there is money in it besides.

Color the Advertisements on This Page the Way They Ought to Be

Prizes will be awarded each week to those who reproduce the colors of all the original labels, packages, trade-marks or designs on this page most carefully, faithfully and neatly. The designs which are black and white reproductions of original labels, packages, trade-marks and designs, are to be colored in the most artistic manner and judging will be done on this basis, together with the neatness of the work. The coloring may be done either in water colors or crayons. This contest is open to school children everywhere. PRIZES WILL BE AWARDED EACH WEEK AS FOLLOWS:

FIRST PRIZE, $5.00; SECOND PRIZE, $3.00; THIRD PRIZE, $1.00; FOURTH PRIZE, $1.00.

The next ten in order of merit will receive a ticket to the Liberty theatre for Saturday afternoon.

This contest will run for 16 weeks. At the close an additional prize of $10.00 will be awarded the child turning in the best page during this period.

IMPORTANT! All designs on this page must be colored and the entire page sent in. Where original labels and trade marks appear, prizes will be awarded for the efforts that are nearest like the originals.

All the merchandise bearing labels and trade-marks appearing on this page can be purchased in the stores you patronize. They are all high-class products in daily use in all families. You are familiar with most of them; if there are any you cannot color from memory, procure one of the packages and enter the contest. After you have colored the entire page, mail it to the "School Children's Contest," Clearfield Progress. All efforts must be in the Progress office on or before 6 p. m. the first Tuesday after the page is published. The week's prize winners will be announced the following Friday.

ASK YOUR PARENTS AND OLDER BROTHERS AND SISTERS TO HELP YOU. START TODAY.

You can have a jolly good time at it, improve your drawing ability and surely win one of the 224 prizes to be given for the work.

CLOSING SCHOOL EVENTS IN JUNIOR HIGH

Tense and deep was the interest on Thursday afternoon among the Juniors, when Principal Ross began the closing exercises. Miss Frank had a list of songs, which were taken up with a gusto and interest that indicated delight in music and in the selections. The last song was "MacGregor Had a Farm," which the boys and girls put through with wonderful effect.

Then came the presentation of the medals from the American Legion, through Commander J. Mitchell Chase, who in well chosen words spoke of the significance of the award, the medals themselves. For all around conduct, popularity and manliness the medals were granted to Robert Lutz, Oscar Shaffner, Max Hall and Robert Zeigler.

Then came a surprise. The local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution donated a ten dollar gold piece for the scholar in the eighth grade who had the highest markings in history. The figures are very close and the winner is first by only seven points in the year. Rella Wilkins took the prize with 1352 points; honorable mention was made of John Marshall with 1375, and Alvin Callahan and John Trozale each 1373.

Interest was at its height, for the awards that MacGregor had arranged were next for announcement. The prizes for the most money earned and banked went to Betty Smith and Harold Hurd; for the most money banked that was legally their own at and after banking awarded to Rose Pellerite and Walter Derrick, who had to his credit $136.50, which MacGregor pointed out represented the interest at 6 per cent in one year on $2,275.

The award of a prize for the essay that discussed "The Earnings of Saved Money," and was best written, was made by the committee to Mollie Stern.

After the cheer leaders had gotten the Juniors up to a pitch of hearty cheering, MacGregor led the school in a cheer that almost rocked the building.

Junior High scholars banked in 34 Wednesdays a total of $3,464.40, which is the interest earnings at 6 per cent in one year from $57,740.

One of the most marked features of the closing exercises was the spirit with which the boys and girls received the announcement of their fellow scholars who took the prizes. Every one applauded with a heartiness that amazed the visitors. They clapped and cheered with such marked approval as to indicate that a fine spirit pervaded the school, a joyous congratulation as warm as would have been their own gratification had they been the fortunate Juniors.

Fourth Ward school had a notable record, little known in this community, for its attendance and banking. That school is presided over by Miss Ruth Williamson, who is fortunate in the co-operation of devoted teachers and assistants. The several grades contributed in 34 weeks a total banking amount of $2,837. And it holds the record of 100 per cent in banking—that is every Wednesday there is deposited something from every member.

ber of the entire school. Albert B. rose banked $118.14 and holds the first place among the boys in the three highest grades. Among the girls Annie Guy made the highest record for the largest amount banked, $52.69. Each received a prize of a new crisp note of Uncle Sam's money, presented by MacGregor. The percentage of attendance for the term was 94. The tardies were only 144 out of 110,382 chances. Before the massed grades were dismissed they were given a blackboard drill in mastering these initial letters—H B D, which translated and explained meant: Habit is Bigger than Dollars saved.

The Alumni banquet will take place Tuesday evening June 17th, at the Danmeling Hotel, and promises to be a very happy social event.

BASEBALL DOPE

DuBois beat Philipsburg in a C. & G. League game Thursday afternoon the score being 7 to 0. Philipsburg makes an awful howl about the umpiring of Larry Meikle. The Philipsburg Journal says not only was the umpiring rotten, but Meikle showed his lack of judgment by rushing into the crowd and kicking one of the spectators who was "razing him."

The Osceola-Clearfield game scheduled for the Clearfield Park Friday afternoon had to be postponed because the grounds were too wet following Thursday night's rain.

DuBois now leads the league, with Clearfield second, Philipsburg third and Osceola occupying Connie Mack's place with a row of goose eggs in the won column.

Betty was known to whatever she wanted, and knowing her fondness for pie her father often gave her his pie after she had eaten hers. On one such occasion a guest asked him if it did not taste good. ROMANCE OF THE ALMANAC

An almanac was one of the first works upon which Gutenberg employed his new art of printing in 1467, but the first to be printed in England did not appear until about forty years later. It was called "The Sheepheard's Kalender." After that date almanacs increased and multiplied, and began to include "omens and prognostications." One which is still preserved is called "The Prognostication of Mayster John Tybault; of the influence of the moon; of peas and warre, and the revolutions of Kings and Princes." Local almanacs became popular in the Seventeenth century, says London Tit-Bits. One was printed for Birmingham in 1642 by Nathaniel Nye, "Practitioner of Astronomy." The preface declares that it is for "the faire and populous towne of Birmingham in Warwickshire, where the Pole is elevated above the horizon 52 degrees and 38 minutes." At first the Stationer's company had the privilege of printing all almanacs, but James I. extended the privilege to the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge. It was not until 1804 that local printers were permitted to issue their own productions. Colored almanacs came in about 1865. They were single sheets at first, very crude and badly printed. But in about ten years they began to improve, and eventually really good pictures were bought by almanac-makers for reproduction. The "Almanach de Gotha" is 100 years old. In 1728, when first published, it had less than a hundred pages.

Prince Viggo of Denmark has formally renounced all claims of succession to the throne of that country in order to marry Miss Eleanor Margaret Green of New York; and the surprising feature of the incident is that the prince did not take this step at the behest of that element in the American government which objects to entangling alliances with foreign powers. Apparently the State department was not alarmed at the possibility that an American girl might become a queen in suspected Europe, says the Baltimore Sun. This is a new international policy, just as the measure from the United States to Honduras shows that the administration is not above giving international advice which implies a warning. But perhaps it may seem to indicate that it has adopted a course which implies a warning. But perhaps the status of the two countries is to be taken into account. Denmark is a small nation and not so prominent in the councils of Europe as to involve the United States in trouble, even though an American were on the throne, and Honduras is too tiny to be dangerous in itself, no matter how much it might resent veiled orders from the United States.

According to a western scientist, development of motion pictures in color will make it possible to show simultaneously two dramas on one screen and to enable the spectators to see the picture preferred by furnishing them with glasses that will render the other invisible. Such a possibility stimulates the imagination. A showing of a knock-down-and-drag-out comedy along with a heavy tragedy would result in such a conflict of reactions by the audience that hard feeling would ensue, says the Washington Post. A woman sobbing over the latter would naturally resent roaring merriment from the next seat. Applause at the hero's triumphs in one picture when the devilry of the villain in the other was drawing hisses would develop a variety of emotions. The double-headed movie, indeed, presents great possibilities.

The World war had a marked effect upon the bread grain consumption of some European countries as well as of the United States, says the United States Department of Agriculture. The standard of living in some countries has been lowered and cheaper foods substituted for wheat. Wheat has been conserved by "long milling," mixing, and by feeding less to live stock. In selling surplus wheat American farmers are compelled to meet increasingly keen competition in a foreign market where the demand has decreased, it is pointed out.

Automobiles parked illegally may be serious obstacles in the way of firemen and may be the indirect cause of deaths in burning buildings. Careful and fair-minded drivers will think of this hazard before they leave their machines contrary to law, even though they feel certain the police will not disturb them.

A New York heiress wed an Austrian count at the city's license bureau, the bride doubtless figuring that she could have the usual "most elaborate wedding of the season" with her next husband.

The sultan of the Wahabhs has won a speaking part on the world's stage by trying to kidnap the king of the Hedjaz. There is a chap that the musical comedies seemingly have overlooked.

Miss Frances Schorr who had been teaching school at Braddock during the winter months, instead of coming home for her usual summer vacation, will teach a summer term in that city.

Raymond Ferguson, who has been ill at the home of his mother, Mrs. Reed Bloom for some time, is not improving as rapidly as his family and friends could wish.

Reports coming in from the result of Thursday's wind and hail storm and the damage caused in its path is something to be reckoned with. Up in the Bloomington and Turkey Hill sections the damage done was even far greater than was done in this neighborhood. Rye and wheat fields were destroyed entirely and in many homes windows in an entire side of a house were broken. At Grampian very little hail fell and no damage to amount to anything is reported. Two miles east of Curwensville there was no hail but plenty of rain. The storm came from the northwest and took an almost direct southerly direction, and was not over a quarter of a mile in width. Old timers aver that never during their long life in these mountains have they seen such large stones fall, but Porter Pyles, who was up in the Madera country during the storm, alleges that hail stones as large as a baseball fell and demolished everything over the section in which it passed.

Miss Jeanette Weber, a Youngstown young lady and a niece of Miss Lottie Bixler, arrived in Curwensville yesterday by motor and will spend a week in town with her aunt. The young lady was a former student in this place.

The Yellow Dogs held quite an interesting session in the opera house Thursday evening, and after a large class of mongrels had been instructed in the ways of dogdom, some important business matters were taken up and discussed; the most important of which were the progress of the building out at the park and scenting along the trail as to having a big Labor Day in Curwensville again this year. Last year the Yellow Dogs put over the biggest entertainment ever held in Curwensville. The membership of this fraternal organization now numbers over 600, and includes the best citizens of this town, Clearfield, DuBois, Glen Richey, Boardman, Bloomington and a number of other towns within a radius of 25 miles.

The ladies of the Pocahontas organization held a most interesting session Thursday evening. Leave it to the ladies to have an edifying entertainment at all of their lodge gatherings.

The following letter was received by the Principal of our schools: "Dear Sir: While the Yellow Dogs are doing a great deal to our beautiful park, do you think in some way you could get a 'Merry-Go-Round' and have it here by the 4th and run it until Labor Day and I bet you will be surprised to no that it will all most paid for itself by then put in the ball park and run it on sat & once

NO IMPROVEMENT IN SOFT COAL FIELDS IS TO BE EXPECTED

Production Drops From 11.16 Per Cent. in 1916 to 8.44 Per Cent. for First Five Months of This Year.

No improvement in business in the Central Pennsylvania coal fields, where the percentage of the total coal production in the United States has dropped from 11.16 per cent. in 1916 to 8.44 per cent. for the first five months of the current year, is looked for by the Central Pennsylvania Coal Producer's Association so long as the present business depression continues.

The wage policy in the union fields of this district, it is declared in a statement from association headquarters here yesterday is bringing about conditions which are predicted "by all observers" from the beginning of the negotiations last year between miners and operators of the district, which negotiations resulted in the signing of the present three-year wage agreement.

600 Mines Idle

Out of 1,000 mines in the Central Pennsylvania fields, 600 are totally idle, it is said, while the remaining 400 are working part time only. All non-union fields have reduced wages, the statement further avers, and practically all have reduced their scale to the November, 1917, rate. Some are said to have gone even below this level.

"The United Mine Workers of America," reads the statement, in part, "are rapidly losing what little hold they do have in West Virginia. The Kanawha field is now practically non-union. The other remaining union field is the West Virginia, the Farmington district, is in a worse situation from a working standpoint than is Central Pennsylvania, larger percentage of their capacity to produce is closed down. The situation in this field, like in our own, is becoming or twice the week bring it before the next meeting please as we will always or as we can't have a carnival and it should have something. ans by Progress. The Kids."

The Principal of the Schools gives us the following answer: "My Dear Children: Your post card comes to me as a call from the wilderness, or as an S. O. S. call from the air. I know you need something to help make you happy during the long summer. You deserve to be happy and I believe you are happy, but we never get quite enough of the happiness of this life so we continually want more. I do not blame you for this. The Yellow Dogs, with the canteen of human sustenance around their necks, are now six hundred strong and are running hither and yon gathering material for the Kennel in Irvin Park which is intended to give pleasure to thousands. After this Kennel is completed and turned over to the Council of Curwensville, they might then take up your 'Merry-Go-Round' idea and try to work it out. You deserve every consideration and I thank you for your suggestion in the above letter. Your Friend, Grant Norris."

Intolerable.

"The no-union fields are fixing the standard of wages in the bituminous mining industry at this time. The United Workers of America are rapidly losing their power to control the wage standards."

"If the United Mine Workers would maintain a fair and stable wage situation in the bituminous mining industry, they must act quickly. Their present policy is a mistake. This must be obvious to all. This being the case, they must change their policy for the preservation of the union. The sooner such action is taken, the easier it will be to accomplish."

Total Coal Production In 1916, figures released by the association show, the total coal production in the country amounted to 592,196,882 tons, of which Central Pennsylvania produced 66,063,311 tons or 11.16 per cent. Since then the percentage credited the local field has steadily declined, reaching the ebb point during the month of January, this year, when Central Pennsylvania produced only 7.84 of the 49,952,400 tons of coal mined in the United States.

An even trend has been maintained throughout the months of January, February, March, April, and May, the last month evidencing a more encouraging production than any of the four preceding. The total production in the United States for the five months period reached 196,912,400 tons. Central Pennsylvania's share was 16,619,208 tons, or 8.44 per cent.

By month, the percentage of production for the local field, as compared with the total for the country thus far for 1924, is shown in the following tabulation:

	United States	Central Penna.	Pct.
Jan.	49,952,400	3,914,082	7.84
Feb.	45,702,667	3,796,921	8.31
March	40,470,533	3,584,301	8.86
April	29,352,800	2,434,241	8.29
May	31,434,000	2,889,663	9.19

A Frog Concert.

As I sat on the piazza that evening, I noticed first an ominous absence of bird voices, and next the presence of a numerous frog population about the little lake close by. The musical performances of these voluble reptiles began about sunset and increased in volume and power till nothing else could be heard. If all the thrushes in the state had assembled in that spot and sung their loudest, they could not have been heard above the awful volume of frog voices.—Olive Thorne Miller.

WOODLAND BOOSTERS MEET IN THE M. E. CHURCH SOCIAL ROOM

Another enthusiastic meeting of the Woodland Boosters was held last Monday night in the M. E. Church social room. Excellent reports were given by various committees showing that the club is living up to its usual methods of work. The question of parking for the town was discussed at length and, it is hoped that this evil will soon be remedied. The club also went on record as favoring the invitation to be a part in the parade at Clearfield on the 4th. From the vim of the Committee appointed the rest of the paraders will have to step some to outline the work and plans of this young hustling club. Mr.

Greenfield of Philadelphia and R. G. Overy of Clearfield were the speakers of the evening. The former stressed the value of Boy Scout work in an interesting address. The latter dealt on Red Cross activities in the club and also brought forth speakers. Woodland Booster Club notes, to be in the shape of an old time parade to slide on an ice-cream car. It could not stop such an ice-cream car. This club cannot afford it has reached the goal of being Woodland a still greater club.

COMMUNITY Y. M. C. A. SWIMMING POOL GOES ON SUMMER SCHEDULE

Chooses for all Groups

The Summer Schedule of the Community Y. M. C. A. Swimming Pool, which goes into effect Monday, is well arranged this year to serve the largest number of men, women, boys and girls possible, with classes and hours most suitable to the majority.

Women and girls will be glad to know that the schedule includes four different groups with an opportunity for each group to use the crystal swimming pool two days a week, the first time in the history of the local Y. M. C. A. The girls are divided into two groups meeting at different hours, for younger girls and older girls. To fill a number of requests upon the part of young business women, one group will meet late in the afternoon to accommodate girls who come from their work in the store or office for a refreshing shower and swim in the attractive 20 by 80 pool. Women and girls are required to wear gray or white bathing suits.

The four boys groups are divided to accommodate large number of Clearfield boys, each class meeting at the same hour each day under supervision. Men can get free swimming instruction by applying to the director for appointment. Boys and girls will receive instruction at class hours.

Special summer membership rates are now in effect and many are taking advantage of the short term fees, good until October 1st: Men, $4; Intermediates and Business Boys, $3.50; Juniors, $3; Ladies, $3; Girls $2. In October the balance of the yearly rate may be paid for the remainder of the year ending June 1925.

The Summer schedule is as follows:

Cadets: Wednesday and Saturdays, 9 to 10 a. m.

Juniors: Mon. Wed. Thurs and Sat. 10 to 11 a. m.

Intermediates: Mon. Wed. Thurs and Sat. 11 to 12.

Business Boys: Mon. Wed. Thurs and Sat. 7 to 8 p. m.

Men: Mon., Wed. Thurs and Sat., 2 to 6, 8 to 9:30 p. m.

Junior Girls: Tuesday and Friday 2:30 to 3:30 p. m.

H. S. Girls: Tuesday and Friday, 2:30 to 3:30 p. m.

Business Girls: Tuesday and Friday, 4:30 p. m.

Women: Tuesday, 7:30 p. m. Friday 8 p. m.

Each bather should be supplied with towel and soap; which can be secured at the office.

KERR ADDITION GOOD ROADS ASSOCIATION HELD BIG FESTIVAL

The Kerr Addition Good Roads and Improvement Association held a regular old fashioned festival and box social on Thursday night.

The main features of the occasion were good weather, cake walks, games, cakes, chance, cakes, beautiful bouquets and beautiful girls to go with the boxes. Ice Cream, cake, candy and soft drinks were served and to enliven the whole affair a good band and drum corps furnished music throughout the entire evening. Every body reports having a fine time.

This festival was held for the purpose of raising money to fix up the streets of Kerr Addition.

The work has already been started under the supervision of Harry Buck. Mr. Buck has the road scraper and tractor rounding up our streets. When this is completed it is proposed to place sewers wherever necessary for proper drainage so that the other work will not have been done in vain.

The association proposes to have another bigger and better Festival in the near future, watch for it.

NOTICE

The Kerr Addition Good Roads Improvement Association will hold a meeting at Maines' n Kerr Addition, Friday, June 20th at 7:30. Everyone is urged to attend. H. H. Zeigler, Pres.

BIGLER

Miss Pearl McGuire of Philipsburg is visiting relatives here this week: Clair Woomer of Clearfield spent the week end with his grandmother, Mrs. Bertha Woomer.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Walker and baby of Barree spent the week-end with relatives here.

Mrs. Edwin Gill and son shopped in Clearfield on Wednesday.

Misses Bella Walker and Madeline Wilson Attended the Otterbein Guild convention held at Punksutawney this week.

Two Standards

The spirit of unfairness toward the sterner sex is always noticeable. When a real pretty boy does nothing but run around and have a good time with people call him a sorry whelp, but when a real pretty girl conducts herself in the same manner people call her a peach. —Milwaukee Journal.

Come for Tonight's Tea Table

Mrs. H. E. Walton and Miss Mildred Zahner of Philadelphia, are visiting their sister Mrs. G. Leola Shannon, of Cherry.

Born, Mr. and Mrs. Norman C. Hill of St. Louis, Wednesday, June 11, 1924, a daughter. Mrs. Hill will be remembered as Miss Ruth Carlisle. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Beryl Reed, of Akron, Ohio, a baby boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Burroughs spent Monday in Altoona.

Our postmaster, C. E. Roseberry, was on a fishing trip several days this week.

Mrs. Milo Lawhead was in town Thursday.

Allen Pearce has returned from State College and will spend the summer at his home.

Burns Healed Without Leaving A Scar

My sister was burned last winter when putting coal oil on a deadened fire and the flames burst out into her face. We used nothing but San Cura and didn't even have a physician and in almost an incredible short time her face was perfectly healed without a scar. It is the finest thing for burns that I have ever seen. Have also used it for other things. Just lately an infected toe and immediately it was healed. Hattie S. Pitts, 18 Iowa Circle, Washington, D. Try San Cura Soap for banishing blackheads, pimples and clearing the complexion. 25 cents at Ralph T. Hunter's Drug Store.

Hupmobile

Drive Shaft and Pinion one piece, drop-forged, 3 1/2 percent nickel steel, case-hardened and double heat-treated, unusually heavy, with two chrome nickel steel taper roller bearings. Common construction calls for only ordinary carbon steel—with merely case-hardened bearings.

Vital Factors

That Make A Car Cost Less to Keep

Everyone knows what Hupmobile is and what it does—the finer construction of Hupmobile parts is one of the vital reasons why it is what it is and does what it does.

Seldom has greater help been given the buyer than the Hupmobile Parts Displays—one of which is a feature in our salesroom.

They show the finer, costlier practices of Hupmobile manufacturing—and you can contrast with them the lesser practices which frequently obtain.

Study these parts—read how finely they are built—then read, in the red type, what the common practice is. Know whether your next car is a product of the highest grade construction, or the other kind.

Booster Club Holds Interesting Meet

P. R. R. Company have agreed to furnish the necessary limestone, free of any charge, to build this piece of road. This improvement will be a great convenience to all traveling to that side of town and to and from the Pennsylvania railroad station.

Second, the committee to have the eye-sore east of the Pennsylvania railroad station cleaned up, the committee being composed of V. G. Henderson, chairman, Geo. Muir, N. G. Stewart, Rev. Bitter and W. A. Devling. They reported this eye-sore cleaned up but there is some dispute as to whether the credit should go to the committee or to some of the good, energetic ladies of that end of town.

Next to report was the committee on the sidewalk through town. This sidewalk is very much needed owing to the heavy automobile traffic. The committee has been dormant through the winter, but have now awakened up and are working on this question, which will be taken up with the new supervisor of highways for this district, as soon as he is located, and they promise something definite soon.

The committee on improvements of houses next gave their report. Prizes are to be awarded to the homes making the greatest improvement through the summer; points considered: painting, tearing down old, dilapidated buildings, care of lawns, gardens, etc. Members of the committee are: Harold Woolbridge, chairman; U. E. Walker and W. A. Devling.

A committee was then appointed to make Thursday, May 1st a general clean-up day, when rubbish and dirt will be hauled away free. All citizens should cooperate in this. The stores will all close Thursday afternoon; all customers can get time at cost from the stores to do any whitewashing they want. A committee consisting of A. E. Woolbridge, chairman, A. B. Landberry and others was appointed to confer with the New York Central and Pennsylvania Railroad Company relative to signals at the railroad crossings.

The club also went on record as favoring a "hands off" policy in the controversy relating to the train service on the Pennsylvania railroad, Tyrone branch. Following this the Bradford Township School Board met and invited the club members to be present while opening the bids for the new

Washington, April 30. (INS.)—Secretary of War Weeks declared today in emphatic terms that instead of being opposed to leasing Muscle Shoals to civilians, he was heartily in favor of it, but that he knew the United States could get more for the big war time product than any offer that had yet been made.

school building. A. W. Hess was low bidder on the general construction, Kittleberger Brothers for the heating and plumbing, and the Electric Supply Company for the electrical work.

Then all retired, after S. T. McClure, president of the Booster Club, volunteered to see that V. G. Henderson, president of the school board, got home. On the way they stopped at the restaurant to drink a toast to the new school, but hot coffee being the strongest obtainable, they drank coffee and broke pretzels to the occasion, after which McClure says he drove home without tearing down any telephone poles, but Henderson has not reported. Oh, well, we guess he is taking a little extra sleep this morning.

Concrete Pavements Grow Stronger
Year After Year

When you vote for a paved road or street, you want to know that you won't be called upon for assessments every now and then to repair or rebuild it.

Built according to present-day high standards, Concrete roads and streets permanently withstand the heaviest pounding and grinding of modern traffic. In fact, they grow stronger year after year.

That is because their definitely proportioned mixture of sand, pebbles or broken stone, and water, is held together by the everlasting grip of that tenacious binder, portland cement.

Concrete Pavements have the repair built out and the maintenance built in. That is why they pay you handsome dividends in satisfaction and service.

Firm, rigid, unyielding, and the last word in paving economy, Concrete Roads and Streets are also skid-proof. And their color is a pleasing, light gray—another very important advantage, especially for night driving.

Watch for advertisements telling about the many other uses of concrete. And remember that the Portland Cement Association has a free personal service to offer you. Whether you use concrete or have it used for you, this service will give you more for your money.

Our booklets R-3 and R-4 tell many interesting things about Concrete Roads and Streets. Which one would you like us to send? There is no charge.

COME OUT OF THE KITCHEN

Can you imagine a woman, with no domestic help, leaving her home at ten in the morning, attending luncheon and matinee and then serving a complete roast meat dinner fifteen minutes after arrival at home? That is what any woman can do with an Automatic Electric Range.

The meat and vegetables are prepared and placed in the cold oven. The temperature control dial on the door, the alarm clock and the circuit breaker on the stove are set and the cooking is forgotten until dinner time approaches.

Automatically, the electricity is turned on and turned off again when enough heat has been stored in the oven. Cooking continues on this stored heat after the electric current is turned off.

Miss Frush, from Pittsburgh, will demonstrate these wonderful stoves daily and in the evenings this week only, in our store. Pay us a visit and learn the many advantages of electrical cooking. The Westinghouse Electric Way of cooking is cheapest and best.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. S.

As the primary election approaches it becomes more and more apparent
that there is a steady drift of sentiment toward Mr. Sweet. The radical Brookhart is not truly representing
the steadfast men and women of Iowa,
either on the farmer or labor side. He
was free with promises but woefully
lacking in accomplishments after he had arrived at Washington. The statesmanship that majors itself in taking the fires under our passions
is not as lasting or acceptable as the kind that lays on soothing balms that enable sense and judgment to function. The Brookhart style of politics is going out of fashion in Iowa and
we are inclined to revert with some reverence to the faith and good sense
of our father.

Road bond issues totaling more
than a quarter of a million of dollars
were authorized by the voters of the seven or eight townships in Clearfield county which voted on road loans at
the recent primary election. Lawrence township electors passed favorably on
a proposition to provide $41,000 for
the township's share of improved
roads leading out of Clearfield and
also voted $20,000 for new school
buildings at Plymptonville and Kerr Addition. Not a single road bond issue in the county failed to go over.

No time or expense for finishing after a CROMAR Floor is laid

CROMAR Oak Flooring is completely finished by machines at
the factory—filled, varnished and waxed. That's the way it comes to you—in perfect condition—with nothing further to do but have it nailed down. You use it the same day it is laid.

Think of the convenience in relaying the floors of an old house!
There is none of the fuss and bother that clutters things up for days or weeks as in hand-finished floors. Also think of the time saved when erecting new houses or other buildings!

With this greater convenience you obtain a more beautiful floor,
and one that retains its good looks indefinitely. A CROMAR is an easier floor to keep clean. With very little attention it will retain its beautiful finish for much longer periods than is usually expected of ordinary hardwood floors.

Write for booklet of interesting facts about flooring. We will name the local lumber dealer who can supply you. He will show you samples and tell you how little it will cost to refloor
your rooms with CROMAR or use CROMAR in a new building.

I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
Cleveland, O., June 13.—Calvin
Coolidge and General Charles G.
Dawes.

Behind this ticket of solid Republican conservatism, organization
leaders got together in Cleveland today and laid the ground work for the
carry through the heat of summer
and into the early frosts of November.

It will be a hectic campaign. That
much is assured, irrespective of whom
the Democrats nominate at New York
two weeks hence. Dawes is one of the most picturesque men in public life.

General Dawes probably will carry
the brunt of the Republican attack in
the west. President Coolidge has already given Republican leaders to understand that he will conduct a
quiet campaign, so far as he personally is concerned, and if there is to be
any stamping of the Insurgent west,
it will have to be done by others. He
plans to stay in Washington, radio

"Isn't it great" was the question of
one worker and the feeling that expressed the sentiments of every worker present at the final report supper
of the Y. M. C. A. Community Service
campaign.

Tenseness marked the move of every
man as he gathered and there
seemed to be a mingled feeling of defeat and victory, for it was impossible
to know exactly what could be expected until the last telephone call was made and the last man who had been
working reported.

Chairman "Sam" Warner called for
reports and when the total for the past two days was received and recorded it was found to be $11,724.50—
making a total of $50,909.85 subscribed.

Cheers were loud and happiness expressed in no small terms by the
workers when they knew that victory
was theirs, and that they had put it

seated, but that is the way he did it,

Keenan Johnson, of Grampian, was
badly cut about the head and had one
of his shoulders and his legs injured
and jammed up as the result of having his Ford coupe bumped off the
railroad track at the grade crossing
in Woodland last evening by a New York Central freight train.

The accident occurred about 7 o'- clock. Johnson and a young man named Mitchell were in the car. This crossing is one of the most dangerous
grade crossings in this section as it
is impossible to see a train approaching until it is right at the crossing.
Mitchell saw the train in time to make a quick jump to safety but Johnson remained at the wheel and
the car ran onto the track squarely
in front of the engine, which struck it
and tossed it upside down to the side
of the road.

Johnson was knocked out of the car
and also landed along the track easily
twenty feet beyond where the up-
turned car lit. He was picked up by
eye witnesses of the accident and carried to the restaurant porch nearby
where Dr. Shively gave him medical attention and discovered that while
his injuries were painful they were
not serious.

Johnson, who was an Irish bull in a
lucky Mick, even though unlucky, as
he went over the bank off the State
road near Stronach about one year
ago and, as in this case, sustained serious injury although considerably used
up.

BUTLER, COOLIDGE MANAGER, NOW HEAD OF REPUBLICAN PARTY

Cleveland, O., June 13 (INS).—William M. Butler, of Massachusetts,
personally selected by President Coolidge as his campaign manager, was
elected chairman of the new Republican National committee at its initial
session today.

Other officers elected for the direc-
man, Ralph E. Williams, of Oregon;
Charles D. Hilles, of New York and
Mrs. Alvin T. Hert, of Kentucky.
Treasurer, Wm. D. Hoges, of Denver.

Secretary, R. O. West, of Chicago.
The new officers represent a complete change in committee personnel.
Butler succeeds John T. Adams, of Iowa; West succeeds Geo. B. Lock-
wood, of Indiana, and Hoges re-
places Fred W. Upham, of Illinois,
who had held the treasurer's post for
many years.

The selection of Hodges came as a surprise, as W. L. Mellon, of Pittsburgh, a nephew of A. W. Mellon, had been slated for the post. It is understood that Mellon declined the appointment.

Hodges was known to few members
of the committee. He is a lawyer by profession, and was formerly president of the Civic and Commercial Association of Denver.

Coolidge Directs Quick Action on Administration of Soldier Bonus Measure

Washington, June 13 (INS).—President Coolidge today issued definite
instructions for the administration of
the soldiers' bonus law despite the failure of Congress to appropriate
funds for its initial cost.

"The World War Adjusted Compensation act became a law over my protest," the President said in a letter to Secretary of War Weeks. "I am not willing, however, to let the Administration of the law remain practically
in abeyance until Congress again con-
venes simply because I would be justified under existing conditions in so doing.

"Rather I regard this law as imposing certain obligations upon the
executive branch of the Government
which do not permit of delay in performance."

Chicago, June 13. (INS).—Every
man of the 70 who manned the
fast Chicago, Milwaukee and
St. Paul mail train which was held up and looted last night of
mail, the value of which may
reach a million and a half dollars,
was taken into custody by detectives today for questioning. A.
M. Germer, chief postoffice inspector, in charge of investigation into the robbery, declared the
robbery to have been an "inside
job."

Chicago, June (INS). 13.—Search-
ing 1,000 officers and special
agents was afoot today for the four
automobile loads of train bandits who
scored a million dollar coup near here
last night.

The corps of bandits, using chloro-
form to drive the clerks from three
cars of the all-mail special train of
the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul
railroads after it had sped thirty-

One hundred and forty-three little
artists went after the prizes in the Coloring Page contest last week and
the judges had the hardest time yet
awarding the prizes. They were
sorry that there were not more prizes
to award as it was hard to pick out
the best colored pages.

But when the best ones were picked
out, Miriam Boyd had the first prize
of $5; Charlotte Zerfoss, second prize
of $3; Robert Vandine, third prize
of $1; Helen Holt, fourth prize of $1.
Tickets to the Saturday afternoon
performance at the Liberty Theatre
were awarded to Billy Roessner,
Dorothy Horne, Ellen Stone, Leah
Gilliland, Margaret Gilliland, Sara
Van Valzah and Virginia Smeal, of Clearfield; Bruce Hull, Mineral
Springs; Louise Rouzeux, Curwens-
ville; Pansy Peters, Mineral Springs.
There is one thing the Contest Editor wishes to caution the contestants about; be sure your names are on your page. This week there were two very fine pages had to be thrown
out because there was no name
either on the envelopes in which they
were delivered to Progress office nor
was the name on the page. Be sure
to watch this, whether you place name
name is on the page.

The Contest Editor is wondering if
there are no artists down around Mor-
risdale, Winburne, Allport, Kyrle-
town or Munson. There has not been
a single page turned in from that section and we would like to hear from
a page turned in from around Glen Richey, O'Shanter or the section there
abouts where the Progress has a wide circulation. Grampian has turned in a few but we would like to see more.
It does not matter where you live,
you have an equal chance with any
of the contestants. Color your pages
carefully, keep in the lines, ask your Mother or Dad about how the things
should be colored and if they don't work.

8 YEAR OLD BOY IS PAINFULLY HURT IN CRASH OF AUTOS

An eight year old boy was painfully
cut and bruised about the head and
face in an automobile wreck which occurred on the hill just beyond Blue
Ball about 5:30 last evening. Worrel
Jones was returning home from a business trip in the Houtdale region
in his car, while going down the hill
Lynn Tiedgen, of East End, swung
out to pass the Jones car and as he
did so a car driven by a foreigner,
whose name we were unable to learn,
loomed up in front of him so close
that a collision could not be avoided
and the two cars went together head-
on with a bang.

The driver of the third car was accompanied by his wife and three
children; and while all five were injured
and bruised, none in the smashup the
boy mentioned was most seriously
hurt. Mr. Jones placed the boy in his car and hustled him over to the Mc-Girk sanitarium at Philipaburg,
where Dr. McGirk gave him medical attention. Both cars were considerably damaged.

and securing a postboard carton gathered up more than a peck of the hail-
stones and brought them down along
with him. When he reached the local station he turned them over to one
of the Yellow Cab drivers and asked him to take them to The Progress
office, which was done.
These hailstorms, when they arrived
here, many of them at least, were as
large as the ends of the fingers of the
writer which was some size for hail
stones one hour after they had fallen
from the skies.

Now, ask them to buy one of the
things or watch for the truck or wagon along the street.
Now, the Contest Editor likes to see
these coloring pages come into the office. And the judges do not care if there are two hundred to go over. Of
course, it makes more work for them,
but every one of the judges is interested in the children and likes to see
their efforts.

So come on with your pages next
week. There will be some new pictures to color and you may be the
lucky one. Just as the boys and girls
were this week. Let's see if we can't have two hundred to look over next
week.

3 OFFICERS AND 45 MEN ON BATTLESHIP MISSISSIPPI KILLED

A Mysterious Explosion
Rends Gun Turret In
Which 90 Men Were Manning the Guns.

San Pedro, Calif., June 13.
(INS).—The 48 men who lost
their lives in an explosion late
yesterday on the United States
battleship Mississippi went to
their deaths sealed in an iron
room, it was disclosed here today.

An inspection of the "death
turret" today revealed the men
were unable to escape because
the intense heat of the fire after
the blast had welded the trap
door on the floor of the turret,
leaving them trapped behind 13-
inch walls of white hot steel.

Five officers of the Pacific
fleet entered the death chamber
today and found the men did not
have a chance for their lives.

From the preliminary examination of the turret the officers
believe many lives would have
been saved if the tiny trap door
had not welded.

Los Angeles, Calif., June 13. (INS).
—Toll in the series of blasts on the
U. S. S. Mississippi, rocked yesterday
in secret battle practice by a terrible explosion of mysterious origin, stood
today at three officers and 45 enlisted
men known to be dead, ten others believed fatally hurt and 59 others injured.

Caught like rats in a trap, more
than two score gunners and officers
were victims of one of the worst
peace-time tragedies in the history of the American navy.

As the ship was limping toward
port, a second blast in the gun turrets
rocked the battered craft, which un-
loaded its injured on the hospital ship

By A. J. LYNCH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)

Cleveland, June 13.—Gen. Charles
G. Dawes, nominated as the running
mate of President Calvin Coolidge late
last night, is not a profane man, W.
W. Mills, Marietta banker, uncle of
the Vice Presidential candidate, and
delegate to the Republican convention,
told International News Service today.

"Hell and Maria"—the General's
favorite expression is not profanity—
it's only the combination of two feminine names, a "hold over" from
Dawes' boyhood days, Mills said.
Wills said that two of Dawes' sisters
bore the names made famous a few
years ago, when the general was summoned before a probing committee to tell what he knew of the A. E. F. The
older brothers, as boys will, Mills continued, quickly caught the alliteration
and "Helen Maria" was a catch phrase
in the Dawes' household.

"Do you realize," asked Mills, referring with pride to his nephew's
achievement in formulating the Dawes' reparations plan for the settlement of Europe economic problems,
"that the only living men mentioned
in the platform head the party ticket
—Coolidge and Dawes?"

General Dawes, Mills said, appreciated the great honor that came to
him but was unwilling, so long as there
was a chance that former Governor
Frank O. Lowden might accept, a
thing to bring about his nomination.

"When his nomination was assured," Mills continued, "I called Charley
on the telephone at Marietta and told him what had happened. He was interested but not excited and began
talking about family matters.

General Dawes was born in Marietta 59 years ago. He was graduated from the Marietta schools, Marietta
College and the Cincinnati College of
Law. In 1887 he went to Lincoln,
Neb., and opened a law office, later
leaving that city for Chicago, and describing law practice for banking.

Versailles, June 13. (INS).—President Gaston Doumergue, of the French senate, this afternoon was elected president of the French Republic in succession to Alexandre Mil-
lerand, resigned.

The left bloc's favorite candidate,
President Paul Painleve, of the Cham-

right on his feet all the time—his appreciation of what the men had done and the splendid spirit shown by the citizens of the community cheering started again. He said it couldn't have been done had not every man working put his shoulder to the wheel so nobly the past two days, and that it was "the biggest thing that had ever happened in Clearfield—folks thought we were tackling the impossible."

He then thanked President Fulton, who also called the workers for what they had done and spoke of the large number of men who in various ways had made it possible for the successful conclusion of the campaign, the success of which could not have been possible without them.

Alfred B. Reed, one of the original members of the Association, who has been a director practically since its beginning, rose and spoke words of encouragement to the workers out of experience in the past and the possibilities of the future.

Each division chairman, "Pop" Wilson, Philip B. Reed, and "Doc" Frantz each in turn expressed their appreciation of the work done by their workers and the happiness that was theirs over the results.

Last but not least, Mr. Warner called upon "Hobe" Callahan, chairman of the executive committee, who also spoke in terms of appreciation and joy as to the outcome—and the loyal devotion of every one who had signed up to do his share in the campaign as a worker's contribution.

"Hobe" then reminded them of the fact that "he had a bottling works that needed his attention for a few minutes" and that he was also going out to see that the park bonds for the new grandstand were finished up in the same way this campaign was finished.

Honors for the day go to Team No. 3 under S. L. McClure as captain, that team having in $2,515.50 and Team No. 5 under the leadership of Walter McClure turned in the largest number of subscriptions—44 in all for the campaign.

It was also interesting to know that one of the workers who had been suspected of soliciting for the "Hobe" then reminded them of the fact that "he had a bottling works that needed his attention for a few minutes" and that he was also going out to see that the park bonds for the new grandstand were finished up in the same way this campaign was finished.

Discover More Cars and Trucks Owned by Farmer

The United States Department of Agriculture recently discovered that 922 farmers in every 1,371 owned 1,000 automobiles and motor trucks.

It was shown furthermore that nine-tenths of these cars were farm business cars. Two-thirds were of the low-priced type and most of them were several years old. About one-fourth of the number were motor trucks, while the fancy roadsters, coupes and sedans composed less than 10 per cent of the total.

A few narrow-minded individuals still are howling that the farmer is doing too much joyriding. That he should look his car up in the barn and walk and enjoy some real prosperity after a few years, but only a few are howling in that key. Time is just as important to the man on the farm as it is to the man in the shop. He buys a motorcar because it saves time in cutting hay. His binder is faster than the cradle, and likewise his motorcar is faster than his team and his truck can haul more in less time than he formerly hauled with his horses. It's too bad, of course, that the motorcar can be used for pleasure occasionally. It gives the howlers an opportunity to howl, but let 'em howl. If using a motorcar for pleasure occasionally is a misfortune, we're glad to have it to contend with.

Cattle feeders who finish on grain for market fared very well during the past year, says the United States Department of Agriculture. Prior to the war cattle ranging in weight from 1,200 to 1,350 pounds were about 17 per cent above the price of range cattle. In 1922 cattle of this weight sold about 20 per cent above the price of range cattle. In 1922 good to prime cattle were about 50 per cent above the price of feeder steers, whereas in September, 1923, they ranged to about 70 per cent above. The high industrial activity has given a good market for good beef and has stimulated a demand for the higher grades of cattle which come finished from the feed lots of the corn belt.

Stop that Eczema!

AMAZING results have been produced by S. S. S. in cases of eczema, pimples, blackheads and other skin eruptions. If you have been troubled with eczema, and you have used skin applications without number, make a test yourself, on yourself with a bottle of S. S. S., one of the most powerful blood cleansers known. S. S. S. makes the blood rich and pure, and when your blood is freed of impurities your stubborn eczema, rash, tetter, skin eruptions, pimples, blackheads, blotches and acne are bound to disappear. There are no unproven theories about S. S. S.; the scientific results of each of its purely vegetable medicinal ingredients are admitted by authorities.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Discover More Cars and Trucks Owned by Farmer

The United States Department of Agriculture recently discovered that 922 farmers in every 1,371 owned 1,000 automobiles and motor trucks.

It was shown furthermore that nine-tenths of these cars were farm business cars. Two-thirds were of the low-priced type and most of them were several years old. About one-fourth of the number were motor trucks, while the fancy roadsters, coupes and sedans composed less than 10 per cent of the total.

A few narrow-minded individuals still are howling that the farmer is doing too much joyriding. That he should look his car up in the barn and walk and enjoy some real prosperity after a few years, but only a few are howling in that key. Time is just as important to the man on the farm as it is to the man in the shop. He buys a motorcar because it saves time in cutting hay. His binder is faster than the cradle, and likewise his motorcar is faster than his team and his truck can haul more in less time than he formerly hauled with his horses. It's too bad, of course, that the motorcar can be used for pleasure occasionally. It gives the howlers an opportunity to howl, but let 'em howl. If using a motorcar for pleasure occasionally is a misfortune, we're glad to have it to contend with.

Cattle feeders who finish on grain for market fared very well during the past year, says the United States Department of Agriculture. Prior to the war cattle ranging in weight from 1,200 to 1,350 pounds were about 17 per cent above the price of range cattle. In 1922 cattle of this weight sold about 20 per cent above the price of range cattle. In 1922 good to prime cattle were about 50 per cent above the price of feeder steers, whereas in September, 1923, they ranged to about 70 per cent above. The high industrial activity has given a good market for good beef and has stimulated a demand for the higher grades of cattle which come finished from the feed lots of the corn belt.

By J. D. C.

Pennsylvania voters will in November next again be called upon to decide whether they want a constitution to revise the state constitution.

citizens seem to be aware of the fact, which is the result of action taken at the last session of the legislature.

While the opponents of constitutional revision had hoped the calling of a convention would be avoided, the enactment of amendments as has been done in the past, the activity of the leaders of the Pennsylvania League of Women Voters was mainly responsible for the passage of the bill for another referendum on the convention issue.

Amendments to the present constitution which will be advertised and be up for second passage at the 1925 legislative session include:

A bond issue of $8,000,000 for Pennsylvania State College.

A bond issue of $5,000,000 for armories and equipment for the Pennsylvania National Guard.

Providing that amendments or supplements to law be clearly expressed in the title.

Issuance of a $25,000,000 bond issue for reforestation purposes.

Authorizing certain assessments against property in Philadelphia.

Providing a method for changing boundaries of election districts.

Permitting exemptions in inheritance taxes through general laws.

Providing for a budget system.

Providing changes in the method of doing state printing.

Seven hundred and thirty-three forest fires which burned 31,880 acres, caused damage estimated at $50,648 and cost $16,239 to extinguish were reported during the spring fire season. A preliminary report to the Pennsylvania State Department of Forests and Waters shows. The greatest number of fires, 223, occurred in the Weiser district. These burned over the greatest acreage, caused the most damage and cost the most to extinguish. And George H. Wirt, chief of

Mercy, then put to sea again to guard against injury to other shipping by other possible explosions.

The blast, accompanied by a roar of crimson fire and black smoke, ignited a powder bag of two guns in the second turret of the giant man-of-war. The gunners, many of them stripped to the waist, were thrown in a tangle of flying iron doors, heavy bolts and wreckage of the ironclad turret.

The Mississippi, accompanied by the Tennessee, Idaho and California, comprising a battle division under command of Rear Admiral William V. Pratt, was engaged in firing on targets towed by the California, when the explosion occurred off San Clemente island, more than 25 miles at sea.

While a dozen gunners in the ammunition room heroically turned water from emergency cocks on to a mass of unexploded powder near the flames which followed the explosion, the Mississippi was able to turn about and make this harbor under its own power.

As she neared the harbor a second explosion shook surrounding buildings.

A projectile had been placed by the dead gunners. It hurtled past the outgoing steamship Yale, crowded with passengers, missing the vessel by only a few yards. The unexploded projectile, a menace to navigation, had not been recovered today.

Eye witnesses of the sea tragedy told a harrowing story of the fearful blasting.

In the gun turret proper, where the accident occurred, there were 88 men, most of them engaged in ramming home the huge shells, which were followed into the guns by great sacks of T. N. T. as preparations were made for a broadside.

"Let her go," was the shout of the gunner in command.

There was a hitch.

Then a maelstrom of iron, steel, powder, fire and smoke entrapped the gunners.

Many of the men were blown to bits; others were fearfully maimed and died before rescuers reached them.

Ensign H. D. Smith was the first to reach the flaming turret. He was driven back time after time but finally succeeded in bringing a hose to the debris.

Rescuers then began bringing out the bodies of their comrades.

"Every hole and cranny in the turret belched hot fire and poison gas," said one of the rescued men. "While

the bureau of protection of the department, says it was only because of the wet spring that more fires were not recorded. We still have our forest fire prevention lessons to learn.

the other ships continued to fire their salvos, the stricken boat hastily displayed distress signal. Even we men on the deck did not know what had happened at first. The impact of the explosion was terrible and then we saw the damaged turret, half hidden in crimson black clouds of smoke and fire. The scenes that followed were awful. It was a panic as the pitiful cries of the dying and hurt reached us. The officers took swift charge and immediately ordered us to fight the fire and assist in bringing out the injured and the bodies."

Many of the injured, it was learned today, are severely burned, and chances for recovery are slight. Because some of the gunners wore with out clothes the burning powder found their bodies quickly and seared them as they clambered out of the death pit to safety.

Among those saved is Ensign J. J. Levisour. He leaped from the shell deck, saving his life. He was badly bruised in his dive for life out of the mass of flames and smoke but none of his injuries is believed serious.

When a hole was cut into the turret to remove the bodies more than twenty burned corpses were found on top of the door.

Around the trap door were found the extended hands of the gunners—with bare fingers they had tried to claw their way from the lethal vault.

The body of Lieut. Thomas E. Zellars, of Long Beach, Calif., was the first removed from the turret. It was found at the water emergency cock of the turret's after-end.

Officers of the fleet said Zellars' last act, turning on the water, saved the Mississippi from destruction. The lever on which his hand rested in death controlled the doors leading to the powder magazine, as well as the flood water control.

Zellars' last act—pulling the powder magazine doors shut saved the lives of a thousand on the man of war. He was the hero of the sea tragedy.

During the last fifty or sixty years, attractive advertisements have led farmers from time to time to try to grow naked or hull-less oats. The very fact that the naked oat has gained no foothold in American agriculture after repeated attempts to exploit it is sufficient proof of its inability to compete with the best common or hulled oats.

Until a few years ago the variety commonly exploited was the Chinese Hull-less, which is now found growing on sterile mountain sides at high altitudes in northern and western China. Recently, however, some new hybrid varieties have been developed by crossing the Chinese Hull-less on the common oat. Of these, the Liberty Hull-less, which was developed in Canada, has attracted the most attention. This new variety of naked oats has been grown on several of the field stations where the office of cereal investigations, bureau of plant industry, United States Department of Agriculture, is conducting experiments with oats. At no station has the yield of the Liberty Hull-less compared favorably with that of the best common varieties. In addition to being inferior in yield it is very susceptible to smut. It is necessary to treat the seed every year in order to avoid almost complete loss by smut.

While there is a small demand for oat kernels with out hulls for feeding squabs and young chickens, it apparently will be better economy to buy ordinary oats from which the hulls have been removed than to try to grow hull-less or naked oats. For feeding farm stock, except hogs, the hull usually is considered an advantage, rather than a detriment, as it lightens the ration and increases its bulk. Not until high-yielding, smut-resistant and otherwise better varieties of naked oats are developed, and available will it be possible to recommend this type of oat as a safe crop for the farmer to grow.

Every mother who has seen her children suffer with indigestion, constipation and the other forms of stomach trouble that have compelled her to deny them the candy and sweets that other children thrive on will be interested in the following statement made by Mrs. Boyd Shick, of New Bethlehem:

"Ever since my boy was a baby he has been delicate and underweight. He has suffered constantly with his stomach, and constipation. Always took cold easily and nothing we ever did for him would make him gain weight or strength.

"Every time he would eat candy or sweets like the other 'kids' he would have a terrible spell. We have bought all kinds of medicines for him but they did not help. So far he has taken four bottles of Sulac and it has worked wonders with him. Indigestion and constipation are all gone, he eats anything he wants and is gaining weight right along. I can truthfully state that Sulac has done the work for him. I have recommended it to friends of mine and I am glad to tell anyone that Sulac is the best remedy I know of for stomach trouble and constipation.

Yours very truly,
Mrs. Boyd Shick,
New Bethlehem, Pa."

Sulac is a certified product of the Southern Laboratories of Atlanta Georgia, and was brought to Clearfield only after our enterprising druggists had convinced themselves of its wonderful success in other territories. It is highly recommended for constipation, heart burn, indigestion, gastritis, loss of appetite, stomach catarrh and other forms of stomach trouble.

You can try Sulac with absolutely no risk. Go to your druggist and buy six bottles. If after taking them you are not perfectly satisfied, ask for your money back. The manufacturers authorize your druggist to make this offer. Sulac is sold in Clearfield by Hunter's Drug store and high class druggists almost everywhere. If you happen to live in a town where it cannot be had, write direct to the Southern Laboratories, 59 Bogenia Street, Atlanta, Ga., and it will be sent you postpaid at the regular price of $1.00 per bottle.

FLORIDA IS WINNER OF LINDSLEY'S CUP

Florida enrolled the greatest percentage of the previous year's Legion membership on March 1. Through the generosity of Henry D. Lindsley of New York, past national commander of the Legion, the "Land of Flowers" will receive a handsome loving cup, presented by the donor to the department making this achievement.

The figures tabulated for the state show that on March 1 a total of 98.2 per cent had been enrolled of the total membership obtained on December 31, 1923. This is most unusual, and while Legion renewals are more advanced at this time by departments than in usual, Florida's feat shows effects of an earnest campaign.

The department of Mexico was not far behind the winning state, however, as it enrolled 92.2 per cent of those affiliating with the Legion during the previous year, and for a time it was thought that the foreign department had surpassed the winner. In a second group, the department of Wisconsin took third place with 73.4 per cent, while Oregon was but a single point behind the Badger state for fourth place. Other departments enrolling more than 50 per cent of the 1923 membership were announced to

and in the following order: South Dakota, Tennessee, South Carolina, Iowa, North Dakota, Alaska, Vermont, Oregon, Wyoming, Kentucky, New Hampshire, Idaho and Nevada.

Commander Lindsley's offer of the cup was made in order to spur the departments to early renewal of membership. The award was not announced until the January meeting of the executive committee, and little or no time elapsed for the various departments to prepare any specific drive.

Legion leader has taken a great interest in Legion affairs. In addition to his position as past national commander, he has been president of several departments, a simplification of the Legion on a national basis which he hopes to see accomplished in the near future. He is a member of the Legion, and his work of the past year has been a success. The Legion has the advantage of the Legion, and his work of the past year has been a success. The Legion has the advantage of the Legion, and his work of the past year has been a success.

Colonization Plan Is Popular With Veterans

At a recent meeting of Legionnaires at a well-known member, it was decided to finance the land colonization plan. More than four hundred and fifty acres, costing $3,000,000, have already been bought for veterans who are citizens of the state. Twelve hundred applications for purchase of land and farms have been received and the board and it is believed that a total $10,000,000 available will be expended by the time these applications are filled.

His Post Finds Auto Show Brings Returns

An automobile show in Jackson, O., found to be a profitable undertaking for the American Legion post of that city. Jackson has less than 6,000 inhabitants. Dealers were pleased with the results of the show when only fifty automobiles were sold or traded for during the show. In addition to the automobile display, local manufacturers, churches, fraternal organizations and merchants displayed. The post netted nearly $100 from the show.

Early Chicks Are Most Profitable

Practical Suggestions Regarding Successful Feeding and Raising.

Early hatched chicks are by far the most profitable, whether grown to maturity for laying or sold as poultry meat, says the United States Department of Agriculture, and the following suggestions in regard to the successful raising and feeding of young chicks have been found to be practical.

The brooder house and stove heater which are used for caring for the chicks during the first few weeks of their lives must be in working order before the chicks arrive. The most common style of brooding is the use of a stove brooder in a colony house, keeping from 350 to 500 chicks in a flock in each house and placing the houses about 150 feet apart on a good grass range. A house 10 by 14 feet makes a suitable colony house which can be readily moved if built on runners. Chicks brooded early in the season will do better in a large house, about 10 by 20, partitioned so that one side is used for a brooder stove and the other for a cool exercising room. Wire netting should be placed in the corners of the brooder house to prevent the chicks from huddling and crowding in the corners.

Feed Chicks Sparingly.

Chicks should not be fed for the first 24 to 48 hours, after which they should be supplied regularly four or five times daily with easily digested feed which contains little waste material. They should be fed sparingly until about the fifth day, when they can be put on full ration. An excellent feed can be made of infertile eggs taken from the incubator, boiled for 15 minutes, chopped, and mixed with a dry mash of equal parts of cracker meal, bran and cornmeal, using a sufficient amount of the grain to make a dry, crumbly mixture. Dry rolled oats are excellent for chicks and can be used as one feed; the other two or three feeds being the commercial grains.

At two weeks of age the chicks can be given a dry mash in a hopper, consisting of four parts, by weight, of rolled oats, two parts bran, two parts cornmeal, one part high-grade meat scrap, one part middlings and one-half part dried, hatched, commercial chick feed. In addition to the dry mash, milk is an excellent feed for chicks and should be provided either as a liquid or in the dry form to secure the best growth.

Feed Coarse Grain.

When the chicks are one month old they should be fed a coarser or intermediate chick grain, and at about two months of age the scratch feed can be changed to equal parts of wheat and cracked corn, fed two or three times a day.

Work With Pest Poisons Seen in Motion Picture

"Poison," a one-reel education motion picture visualizing the activities of the insecticide and fungicide board, has been recently released by the United States Department of Agriculture.

The film shows the numerous ways in which the American farmer, the greatest user of chemicals in the world, employs poisons of various sorts to destroy insect pests and diseases which attack his crops and live stock, and how the insecticide and fungicide board protects the public against fraudulent materials by examining all insecticide and fungicide offered for sale in interstate shipments. Various laboratory scenes illustrate the chemical analyses given the materials, and field scenes show how the worth of the "poison" is determined by actual tests.

The seizure of "fake" materials, which not only fail to "cure" but often cause enormous losses by actually injuring plant or animal, and the punishment of their purveyors, are also included in the film, which sounds a warning to users of insecticides and fungicides to beware of untested poisons and to use only tried and proved articles.

"Poison" will be circulated through the educational film service of the department and the co-operating state institutions. Copies may be borrowed for short periods or may be purchased at the laboratory charge.

Farmers Are Beginning to Find Value of Sudan

Farmers are just beginning to realize the value of sudan grass for feed. Sow broadcast or put in with a drill, about twenty pounds to the acre, and don't put it in too deep—about one inch is right. This will make a fine temporary pasture for hogs. It keeps coming up just like alfalfa does, and the more it is eaten down the more it starts up. You can turn in on it about the middle of June and from then on until frost in the fall, it gives a wonderful amount of feed. Put in with a flax and cultivated as corn. It stools more readily and makes good hay for horses and cattle. Use about two or three pounds to the acre. It makes more hay and better hay and is a surer yielder than any other quick crop you can use. It will cut from two to four crops a season.

Sudan grass being an annual, and having fibrous roots similar to wheat or oats, is easily controlled and eradicated as millet. Sudan is a good seed crop, too.

The Freedom of Occupational Choice Should Be Zealously Safeguarded

By E. E. WINDES, U. S. Bureau of Education.

Freedom of occupational choice is an outstanding characteristic of our American civilization and a condition to be zealously safeguarded. Individual migration in response to occupational opportunity has largely determined the ceaseless shifting of population in the United States.

So long as we can keep the road to free occupational choice open, hope and stimulation to effort will not be lacking; unrest and destructive revolution will not seriously menace, economic forces will balance vocational groups, and the need for governmental interference will not become acute.

One who realizes that the occupational misfit is a danger to society, that an occupational misfit is relatively unproductive because the keen stimulation of working toward a self-chosen end is lacking; that an occupational misfit is a discontented man, ripe for propaganda, inciting to violent acts against the established order; that an occupational misfit is an unhappy man, and organized society is not justified in contributing to such a lot, will insist that the school concern itself largely with education for occupation.

You Must Go to School, for Your Country and for the Government

By WILLIAM M'ANDREW, Chicago School Superintendent.

It took us schoolmasters until the time of Woodrow Wilson to wake up to the idea that the old notion of education which had existed before the Revolution should have been changed when the American Revolution came in. Why? Because the object of education in the old European days was for the individual, my advancement, and it was for the higher born.

We linked together two words, gentleman and scholar, and what was a gentleman? If one came in how could you recognize him? By the lace collar around his neck, by the lace on his sleeves, by his long hair, and this costume meant I cannot sweat, I am a gentleman, I do no work with my hands, and that built up an education that was suited for that kind of costume, a white collar, white cuff education which was for those of superior rank.

In my boyhood days it was considered a privilege to go to school, and if you did not behave you could be suspended. Then, by degrees, we put in the compulsory education law, which means now it is a duty for you to go to school, you must go to school. What for? For yourself? No, but for your country and the government. You ask a boy, as he sits on the front seat, what he is going to school for and the answer is not in order that he may learn, in order that he may get ahead, but he is going to school in order that he may serve his country. For it is his country that is paying for his education.

Real Overcrowding

"Another case of shameful overcrowding," grumbled Mr. Blumfeld, reading from his paper. "There are over 3,000,000 bacilli in a cubic inch of milk."—London Tit-Bits.

Opinion and Heresy

They that approve a private opinion, call it opinion; but they that dislike it, heresy; and yet heresy signifies no more than private opinion.—Thomas Hobbes.

Takes pills for years—finds first permanent relief in Kellogg's Bran

Have you found permanent relief from that terrible disease—constipation? The woman whose letter follows discovered—as thousands have discovered—that Kellogg's Bran succeeds when all else fails. This is because Kellogg's Bran is ALL Bran. Nothing but ALL Bran can be so effective. This is what she wrote:

"Gentlemen: I am so wonderfully happy over my discovery, I feel I must tell the world about it. For years I have been ill continually from constipation, always resorting to pills or the like, never having any permanent relief until I heard of your Krumble Bran. Every morning I take two tablespoonfuls before my breakfast, and since the latter part of August I must admit have not experienced one sick spell which I have had for years. I have started my little girl

at four years on your Bran, and already I have noticed a change in her. I thank you very much. Name and address furnished on request. Write the Kellogg Co., Battle Creek, Mich."

If eaten regularly, Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is guaranteed to relieve permanently the most chronic cases of constipation. Eat at least two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Money returned if not effective.

Notice the wonderful nut-like flavor. This flavor is delicious—so different from ordinary unpalatable bran. Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, made in Battle Creek, is served by America's leading hotels and clubs. Demand Kellogg's Bran. It will bring back your health. Start eating it today. Sold by all grocers.

Surely "Some" Luncheon.

A young novelist who recently called to England to see a dramatization of a novel was given a luncheon by the host. It was quite a luncheon, too, but his friends managed to get him to the ship. About midnight he awakened and the only light was the light of the moon that came through a window. He gazed out of it in fascination for about half an hour, and then, with a start, he stood up, and said, "What's the idea of all this water?"—New York Correspondence Indianapolis Star.

Fortunate Birth Season.

Persons born between August 22 and September 23, when the sun is in Virgo, have cool, calm, orderly bearing, self-possessed and dependable, excel in everything they undertake—business, play, study, competition or effort of any kind; have remarkable memories. Make best teachers and lecturers. Somewhat inclined to selfishness and self-gratification, but as friends they are devoted.

Betty Came First.

Betty was born in whatever she wanted, and knowing her fondness for pie her father often gave her his piece after she had eaten hers. On one such occasion a guest asked him if he did not like pie. Before he could answer Betty replied, complacently: "Oh, he likes it all right, but you see, he likes me better'n pie."

Joint-Ease For Burning Feet

Now that we know that aching, burning feet are caused by troubles in the small bones in the arches of the feet, and that trouble can only be reached by a massage, an active emollient that soaks right in through skin and flesh, and acts to the joints and ligaments.

Isn't it about time to discard powders and medicated baths that only reach the outside of the skin? And rub on Joint-Ease first in 10 minutes, starting to scratch and heat the inside, and then cause soreness and burning.

Rub it on tonight and if there is any burning left in the morning, it won't be enough to bother. Always remember, when you rub Joint-Ease in your feet, get it in quick—50 cents a bottle. Street Drug Co., 1000 1/2 N. 1st St., St. Paul, Minn.

Osceola Mauled, Beaten And Humiliated In Slug Fests At Burg Yesterday

Manager Robinson and his C. & C. League ball team lambasted the over-lusting daylights out of Osceola's hopes and pride at Scott field yesterday afternoon in a game marked by the heavy hitting of the Clearfield team. "Dode" Wisor was the twirler selected to confound Osceola's poly-glot crew and "Dode" was there both ways from the middle. The "enemy" managed to chalk up three hits during the eight innings and were allowed one run as a salvo for their wounded feelings.

The final score was 12 to 1, rain stopping hostilities after Clearfield had started her half of the ninth. Heberling had singled and scored on Rowles' three base hit, his second of the game. "Sluggo" crossed pan on Shaull's lone fly to centre, and right there old St. Pluvius began a copious weeping and the game was called.

The score:

The Rose in History

The rosary of religious service named for the rose, crushed rose-cord to chronicles, having sprung before the advent of the And we are told that the express "sub rosa" came about because the mass used to paint a large rose on ceiling of their banquet halls as a reminder to those present that what uttered was not to be repeated.

DIVORCE NOTICE

Curwensville's Own Column

One of the worst and most destructive hail storms that has visited this section for years passed through this valley yesterday afternoon. Hail stones fell as large as walnuts and as hard as iron nuggets. Gardens were rimmed to a finish and all plants utterly ruined. A strong and high wind accompanied the hail and many trees were trimmed of their foliage. Fruit trees in the back of the storm were damaged to such an extent that they will not bear half a crop. A great amount of damage done by the storm is attributable to the fact that it is impossible to replace the plants destroyed.

Chief Clerk and the sub-officers having had at all times, are over all the streets and alleys of the town, have been permitted to go to their homes. Five of the stray calves have already been shot and hamstrung. Hereafter, a dog found running at large and being accompanied by the owner, will be kept on a leash and no tag, any complaints have been made to the authorities by people that dogs are permitted to be at large destroyed many gardens. Dog owners will take notice of the above mandate if they want to keep their pets from being shot at home.

D. D. Hunsent and family left yesterday for Indiana county to attend a meeting of some sort that is going on there.

A child of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Patton, three years, is quite ill and under the care of Dr. Blair.

In our ramble up the state road today, from noon we happened to turn our eyes toward the south side of the creek and discovered that a number of oldtime sheds which stood at the old Jenkins fish pond had been torn down. An investigation which no doubt meets approval of those who have lived here for years.

A crew of men are engaged in putting the large foundation for the new State Bank building. The building is 15x35 and the upper story weighs five and one-half tons. The large glass front has been in place and work on the interior of the room will commence at once.

Ministers are putting a new spring on the property occupied by J. McKinley.

It is to be regretted that it became known to build that new addition to the High School building this year. The room were crowded last year and will be the result by the time for the next winter's term. The building is now being used for the purpose of housing the new school.

On Thursday afternoon store closed playing the very loud with a few papers. The forenoon are busy and it is in the afternoon that the man hustles for his letter.

Mr. and Mrs. Orris Brennan, at their new home in Tannery street, on Thursday morning, a young boy named as this is their first child, two daughters having been born previously.

Convention Hall, Cleveland, June 12.—Coolidge and Dawes is the Republican ticket for 1924.

President Coolidge's nomination was accomplished with only a ripple of dissent from Wisconsin and North Dakota, but the nomination of his running mate came only after the convention had once selected a man and had been forced by his declaration to choose another—Charles G. Dawes, the "Hell and Maria" general.

After a short race with Secretary Herbert Hoover, who came into the balloting after the declaration of Lowden, Dawes galloped away with the nomination.

Motion to make it unanimous and by acclamation was disturbed only by the dissent of Wisconsin and North Dakota.

In a brief and spectacular fight in which William Butler, President Coolidge's campaign manager, had said to Senator Reed, "it must be Hoover" and Senator Reed had replied "it cannot be done; it must be Dawes," the Dawes supporters marshaled their forces and put the general across.

Earlier in the day Mr. Butler's forces had passed the word that the administration men desired the nomination of Theodore Burton, of Ohio,

and in the voting which followed the supporters of Frank O. Lowden ran away with the nomination for their man to have him to decline it. The nomination of Dawes came as a climax to one of the most spectacular scenes in Republican Party history, in which the convention once having nominated a candidate was obliged to undo its work, and select another.

He Will Accept
Marietta, O., June 12.—Brigadier General Dawes, tonight accepted the nomination:

"I accept the nomination by the Republican party for the vice presidency" he said in a formal statement when informed of his nomination by the Associated Press. "I deeply appreciate the honor conferred."

Earlier in the night when it appeared that Mr. Dawes would be nominated, his brother, B. G. Dawes, said he thought his brother would accept the nomination. The general was out automobile riding at that time.

The vice presidential nominee had returned to his old home here this week to attend the 40th reunion of his class at Marietta College, from which he was graduated. He remained here

sieve work of many residential roofs. West and east of Curwensville the storm does not appear to have done any damage at all, the wind and hail coming from the north.

The school board intend having a new steam heating system installed in the Locust street building. Heretofore dry heat had been used, but it has not proved satisfactory at any time, and now the old system has gone to the dogs entirely.

Cleveland, June 12.—After having been nominated for the vice presidency by a landslide of votes Frank O. Lowden again declined.

No such situation has even prevailed in the history of the party.

Nominated in a landslide of votes after the administration forces had sent out the word for the nomination of Theodore Burton, of Ohio, Lowden was chosen in an avalanche of votes.

No movie thriller ever gave its audience a more sensational windup than did this Republican convention that met so dramatically and calmly days ago to nominate Calvin Coolidge.

Sharply pointed daggers were still flying thick and fast today among the organization leaders over the race that resulted in the nomination of Frank O. Lowden and his subsequent rejection of the nomination.

The first time in the history of major political parties that a man has turned down such a high honor once his friends have conferred it on him. Harsh words were exchanged concerning the Lowden nomination between William M. Butler, the President's personally selected campaign manager, and organization leaders from New York and Pennsylvania, whose dramatic act in throwing their strength to Lowden at the end of the second ballot on the vice presidency, resulted in Lowden's nomination.

Not did the organization leaders on the floor, perspiring in the midst of milling delegates, take kindly to the efforts of Butler on the platform, to try to force the nomination of Herbert Hoover after Lowden had returned the crown with a tart message that snatched of weariness over having to repeat the "no" so many times.

Butler's effort to put over Hoover was promptly met with the nomination of Dawes. It was accomplished by organization leaders from New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and scattering southern and western states.

Probably the most dramatic incident of the convention was when Butler left the platform and went on the floor a few minutes before the final ballot.

The floor managers were as tired as the delegates, probably more so. They had been getting orders all day, conflicting orders, first on this man and then for that, involving the political destinies of half dozen men—Borah of Idaho, Kenyon of Iowa, Curtis of Kansas, Burton, of Ohio, Sanders of Indiana, Hoover of California—and they were heartily tired of orders. Some of these they would not follow and they appealed to President Coolidge at the White House by long stage speeches.

They refused to take Kenyon of Iowa, even though Butler assured them that he was the White House choice. They had had the stage set for Borah upon Butler's orders and then Borah turned down the nomination. They themselves had set the stage for Curtis, only to have Butler turn out the lights on them. They had tried to set the stage again for Sanders, after talking with President Coolidge from a telephone in the basement, but the delegates demurred.

They had never heard of Sanders. Then came the dramatic climax of the convention, getting out of hand and nominating Lowden.

Butler sought out Senator David A. Reed, of Pennsylvania, just as the Chairman was rapping for final session into order.

Hoover, he said.

"It's too late," replied Reed.

He planned to where Andrew Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury sat imperiously at the head of the 79 delegates from the Keystone state.

"It's too late," repeated Reed, "It's Dawes, and on the first ballot."

Butler stalked back to the platform, his face reddening.

And it was Dawes—on the first ballot.

Senator Walter E. Edge, of New Jersey, who headed the 31 delegates from that state, had previously refused to be swayed from Dawes.

"The New Jersey delegation is tired of taking orders" was his tart message to the platform.

Dawes got 68 3/4 votes, according to the official count. Hoover received 24 1/2, the largest single unit of which was the 39 delegates from Butler's state of Massachusetts. Even

"I know I have done wrong, please forgive me for not doing my duty and writing you before. I am thankful to God and the good remedy He gave you, and would not take $500 for the good the first dose gave me. I have been bothered for many years with gas in my stomach, and indigestion out since taking Mayr's Wonderful Remedy two years ago, have had no such trouble." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the intestinal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. JORDAN'S

Guineas Good Protection

Against Hawks and Crows

Guineas are kept on many farms as a protection against chicken hawks, crows, etc., in the daytime, and as a night alarm against predatory persons and animals.

A flock of six to eight breeding birds is about right for the average farm. These should be replaced about every two years, at which age their usefulness as breeders practically ends.

Guineas usually mate in pairs, although a male will sometimes mate with two or three females. Better results in hatching will be obtained, however, if equal numbers of males and females are kept. During the breeding season the male will often be found sitting on the nest in the absence of the hen, and with her if the nest is large.

Feeding of Sugar Beets

Is Not Economical Plan

Roots are palatable, succulent and laxative but are low in protein and calcium. The sugar beet is one of the most palatable of the root crops fed to swine. Trials, however, have shown that the value of the sugar beet for fattening swine is so low that it is a very uneconomical feed. Occasionally it may prove profitable to turn the hogs into the field and harvest the beets in that manner but as a general thing the feeding of sugar beets is not economical.

Free of Tuberculosis

There are now in the United States, according to a statement by the Department of Agriculture, more than 33,000 herds of cattle fully accredited by the government as being free of tuberculosis. Indiana has the largest number of these herds, 4,160. Wisconsin stands next with 3,967, and Minnesota third with 3,073.

Farm Hints

Ice harvested in winter spells sweet cream in summer.

We must preserve the birds if we would save humankind.

Test every ear of corn. If you have saved your seed corn. If not, buy only tested seed of high germination.

A problem soon to be undertaken by the Department of Agriculture is to standardize grades of live stock, meats and wool.

Acid phosphate is such a little wonderworker that many farmers say that with nature it's all the plant food their land needs.

With things so high, the farmer who puts out a good garden for next summer is likely to be well repaid, even if not a thing is sold out of it.

Farming is an old story. It occupies a position in the world that is not dependent upon time or place. In his respect farming is not different from other open occupations.

Snowdrop, Nutritious

The "chickadee" of spring, the English snowdrop appears to owe its introduction into England to the Benedictine monks who discovered that the roots of the snowdrop possessed properties nutritious enough to merit their cultivation near their monastery.

OUR NEED OF IODINE

For several generations the medical profession has held iodine in high regard as a medicine. In the treatment of certain chronic systemic disorders, it is almost indispensable, yet until recently no one had the slightest idea as to how or why the drug produced the observed effects. The improvement of patients to whom it was administered was often unequivocal and obvious; but in attempting to explain the action of the drug the physician had to fall back upon such meaningless terms as "blood-purifier," "alterative," and "obstruent."

In recent years, however, a clue has been gained to the manner of action of the mysterious agent, through the discovery that iodine in exceedingly small quantities is a normal constituent of the human body, and that the thyroid gland is the organ in which it is chiefly stored.

The normal functioning of the thyroid gland appears to be absolutely dependent upon its iodine supply, and the thyroid secretion has an important influence over every tissue and organ of the body. The medicinal administration of iodine may directly stimulate the action of the thyroid, and thereby improve the nutritional conditions of the bodily organs.

The most direct and unequivocal evidence of an iodine shortage in the body is usually to be gained from examination of the thyroid gland itself, and consideration of the symptoms known to be associated with thyroid disturbance. Most laymen are familiar with the word "goiter," implying an enlargement of the thyroid gland.

There are certain regions where goiter is particularly prevalent, and it is generally supposed that the drinking water of such regions must contain some toxic property. Latterly, however, the opinion has gained ground that the trouble is due not to anything present in the water, but to the absence of iodine. This theory has recently been put to an experimental test on a large scale through a survey conducted by the State of Michigan's Department of Health.

The results, as outlined in a preliminary report by the Health Commissioner, are exceedingly interesting. They appear to be the closest relation between the percentage of iodine in the water supply and the prevalence of goiter. Where iodine is present in excessive quantity, goiter is rare; and as iodine decreases goiter increases proportionately.

It is noted that at Mount Clemens, where the water supply shows 25 parts per million of iodine, and 26 per cent of the children have enlarged thyroids; while at Romeo, only 12 parts per million of iodine shows no trace of goiter. At 50 parts per million, and 75 per cent of the children have enlarged thyroids. It is possible to predict the results of the chemist's report on the iodine content of the water. Goiter cases are, therefore, no longer a mystery.

FLAG DAY EXERCISES WILL BE AT 5:30 P. M.

The flag day exercises to be given by Clearfield Lodge of Elks at the Court House square this evening at 5:30 o'clock will be both beautiful and impressive and well worth witnessing. The officers of the lodge will have charge of the ceremonies and will exemplify the flag day ritual of the Elks. The Elks lodge is one of our leading American patriotic organizations and place special stress upon loyalty and respect for the flag throughout all their lodge services and were largely influential in having flag day made a national holiday.

Congressman William I. Swoope who was scheduled to make the address of the evening has cancelled his date here to address an audience at Bellefonte, his former home, and the Hon. A. R. Chase will speak in Mr. Swoope's place.

The public generally is invited to witness the ceremonies.

TWO FIVE SHOWS HERE NEXT WEEK

Manager Hartman of the Driggs theatre has booked two unusually good attractions for his playhouse for the coming week in "Grumpy" and "The Eternal City."

"Grumpy" with Theodore Roberts, May McAvay and Conrad Nagle in the lead roles is the story of a gruff, hard-boiled old man who under the most has a heart that really is very, very soft towards a young couple whom he has seen fit to befriend. There is a very pretty love story running through the scenario and there are numerous exciting situations.

"Grumpy" was the last picture made by Mr. Roberts before he started to portray the leading role in "The 10 Commandments."

"The Eternal City" is the Robert Flaminio version of the famous novel by Hall Caine. It is brought down to modern times and the entire scenes were filmed in sunny Italy. The cast includes such shining lights as Rex Lytell, Barbara Lamarr, Lionel Barrymore, Richard Bennett and Montagu Love, who alone would make a mighty fine picture out of an ordinary theme.

THE FLAG ON FLAG DAY

Flag Day, June 14th, is not a legal holiday, but American citizens are paying more attention to it in recent years than they did to merit. It might be well, therefore, to observe the day not merely by hanging out flags on front porches, but also by thinking over the pledge to the flag and by learning and practicing the code covering its proper civil usage.

Almost any school child can tell his forgetful parents the pledge to the flag, but the rules for civil display are not so generally known. The code was adopted in 1923. It requires that the flag of the United States should not be dipped to any person or thing; that it should not be displayed with the Union down except as a signal of distress; that no other flag or pennant should be placed above or to the right of it; that it should not be allowed to touch the ground or to trail in the water.

Furthermore, it should not be used as drapery—red, white and blue bunting is suitable for that purpose. The flag should not be fastened in such a way that it can be easily torn, or of a nature to be draped over the hood, top or sides of a vehicle, or of a flag on a float in a parade it should be properly affixed on a staff. It should never be spread over a table, over benches or backs of chairs, or used as a ceiling covering. It should never be used as a portion of a costume or athletic uniform, and should not be embroidered on cushions or handkerchiefs, or printed on paper napkins or on advertising material. Lettering should never be placed on the flag. The flag should be protected as much as possible from soiling or damage.

To some persons this may seem like a lot of fussiness, yet the flag has no significance to the average citizen. It should be treated with respect and dignity. And certainly the flag is a symbol of the nation from a staff. There is plenty of bunting in the world for a lot of other purposes.

THE FRENCH UPSET

France is always having a crisis of some kind, and American is inclined to think that another one is about to occur. The crisis just now is real. Not content with forcing Premier Poincaré to resign, the insurgents in the French Parliament have forced President Millerand to resign. Nothing of the kind has happened before.

It is very much as if our own Congress, being at odds with the Executive, should compel the President to resign because of the opposition of his term. Or it is as if the British Parliament, because of the interference of the Crown in legislation, should compel the King to abdicate. The French President is a figure of the qualities of both the American President and the British King. He is elected for a term of years, but he is supposed to be the ruler of a constitutional monarch, as superior to parties and a bridge between changing administrations.

It was contrary to the spirit, at least, of the French Constitution to demand President Millerand's resignation. But his resignation was the result of his having made such action necessary by disobeying the Constitution and meddling with party politics.

Millerand's offense was playing party politics and upholding Poincaré's policies. The liberals, having got rid of the premier, found they could make no progress without also getting rid of the president, because when Millerand appointed a new premier to form a new cabinet he chose a man of the Poincaré type.

All this comes home to Americans. It seems to mean that the Poincaré type, militaristic Poincaré party is reeducated for good. France is tired of costly armament and jingo oratory and is determined to find with Germany, and is determined under the leadership of Edouard Herriot, a liberal, to make an honest effort at repatriation settlement and restoration of France and Germany side by side and of Europe with them. The world has been long for such action.

Progress Editorials for Women

NOT MERELY GASTRONOMIC

By FLORENCE DAVIES

Picnic time is here again. However long and late the winter chill lingers, there comes a day of blue skies and sunshine, when baskets are packed, little sweaters and rubbers are pulled on, and we go picnicking. And what do we do on these rambling? Long the baskets, the extra scarves and cushions and umbrellas, give a preliminary sandwich to each child and think how good Susie's cake and Martha's potato salad are going to taste at the end of the walk. We rather pride ourselves on the big appetites we are getting in this glorious sun. Don't we?

No harm in that, unless that is all that the picnic means. A nature lover, pleading for the training of children in the love and knowledge of the outdoor world, said to a big audience of mothers and grandmothers the other day, "Why should our chief generation be a picnic generation?"

It would have all the birds named "without a gun," as Emerson puts it. The wild rose leaved and left on its stalks the same poet urged. Every foot of a walk, spring, summer and autumn, when the picnic claims us, should be full of interest because of the "wonder and beauty of common things."

Wild flowers and ferns dragged up by the roots and left to wither, eggs plundered from songbirds' nests, tiny creatures frightened away from the haunts of men, will be impossible to any child who is taken early and taught to reverence nature, this speaker argued.

Not are any of us too old to learn what he would have the kindergartners taught. The great book of outdoors, the miracle of the stars, the wonder of the chattering brook are all interpreted by the poets, from whom he quoted in his talk, but how much more the beautiful lines will mean to us, young and old, if we have had our eyes opened to all that may see.

"Put nature study in its right place in the schools," was the plea that this particular speaker, from whom we have quoted, made to the hundreds of women in his audience. "If the school board tells you there isn't time or isn't money enough, tell them that a child has much right to be taught how to interpret a road as how to interpret a book."

CHILDREN'S DAY PAGEANT

AT WEST SIDE M. E. CHURCH

Tomorrow will be observed as Children's Day at the West Side M. E. Church, when the children of the Sunday school will present the pageant "The Secret Whispered to Children." Owing to the memorial service for the legionnaires in the evening, the children's exercises will be given at the morning service, immediately following a short Sunday school session.

The natural beauty of the pageant to be presented will be greatly augmented by the many colorful costumes prepared by the committee in charge, and these with the well trained performance of the children promise to make one of the most satisfactory and inspiring Children's Day presentations ever given at West Side.

STATE CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR SOCIETY MEETS IN 3 WEEKS

Pittsburg, June 16—With three weeks remaining before the State Christian Endeavor Convention meets here, indications are that 15,000 delegates from all of Pennsylvania's 67 counties will attend. A. H. Brownell, state president, declared today.

Nearly every county in the State has been heard from by Mrs. Charles H. Van Horn, registration committee chairman, and in at least three instances, the counties will exceed their quotas.

These counties are all in Eastern Pennsylvania—Chester, which will send 300 delegates; Lackawanna, which will send 150, and Lancaster, which will send 170.

Philadelphia county itself plans to send from 500 to 1,000. They will come well drilled and organized, ready to pit their county yell against that of other counties. They will send 400; Dauphin 400; Westmoreland 400; Berks 150; Blair 250; Butler 250; Delaware 200; Fayette 350; Indiana 200; Lehigh 200; Montgomery 250; and Northampton 200; according to Mrs. Van Horn.

The Pittsburg gathering is to be the greatest assemblage of Christian young men and women ever held in any state and is designed to show the caliber of its membership. The Christian Endeavor movement was born in Portland, Me., in 1831. Its founder, Dr. Francis B. Clark of Boston, will be on the speaker's program. Another speaker will be Curtis D. Wilbur, Secretary of the Navy, and still others will include renowned church-

School Children's Coloring Contest---224 Prizes

$170 in Cash 160 Theatre Tickets --- 10 Each Week

IT IS EASY TO WIN---THERE ARE 14 PRIZES EACH WEEK

Little Artists, here is a page that will interest you. It offers an opportunity to show your ability and to use your artistic "knack" to win prizes. It's lots of fun, and there is money in it besides.

Color the Advertisements on This Page the Way They Ought to Be

Prizes will be awarded each week to those who reproduce the colors of all the original labels, packages, trade-marks or designs on this page most carefully, faithfully and neatly. The designs which are black and white reproductions of original labels, packages, trade-marks and designs, are to be colored in the most artistic manner and judging will be done on this basis, together with the neatness of the work. The coloring may be done either in water colors or crayons. This contest is open to school children everywhere. PRIZES WILL BE AWARDED EACH WEEK AS FOLLOWS:

FIRST PRIZE, $5.00; SECOND PRIZE, $3.00; THIRD PRIZE, $1.00; FOURTH PRIZE, $1.00.

The next ten in order of merit will receive a ticket to the Liberty theatre for Saturday afternoon. This contest will run for 16 weeks. At the close an additional prize of $10.00 will be awarded the child turning in the best page during this period.

IMPORTANT! All designs on this page must be colored and the entire page sent in. Where original labels and

trade marks appear, prizes will be awarded for the efforts that are nearest like the originals.

All the merchandise bearing labels and trade-marks appearing on this page can be purchased in the stores you patronize. They are all high-class products in daily use in all families. You are familiar with most of them; if there are any you cannot color from memory, procure one of the packages and enter the contest. After you have colored the entire page, mail it to the "School Children's Contest," Clearfield Progress. All efforts must be in the Progress office on or before 6 p. m. the first Tuesday after the page is published. The week's prize winners will be announced the following Friday.

ASK YOUR PARENTS AND OLDER BROTHERS AND SISTERS TO HELP YOU. START TODAY.

CLOSING SCHOOL EVENTS IN JUNIOR HIGH

Tense and deep was the interest on Thursday afternoon among the Juniors, when Principal Ross began the closing exercises. Miss Frank had a list of songs, which were taken up with a gusto and interest that indicated delight in music and in the sections. The last song was "MacGregor Had a Farm," which the boys and girls put through with wonderful effect.

Then came the presentation of the medals from the American Legion, through Commander J. Mitchell Chase, who in well chosen words spoke of the significance of the award, the medals themselves. For all around conduct, popularity and manliness the medals were granted to Robert Lutz, Oscar Shaffner, Max Hall and Robert Zeigler.

Then came a surprise. The local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution donated a ten dollar gold piece for the scholar in the eighth grade who had the highest markings in history. The figures are very close and the winner is first by only seven points in the year. Rella Wilkins took the prize with 1352 points; honorable mention was made of John Marshall with 1375, and Alvin Callahan and John Trozale each 1373.

Interest was at its height, for the awards that MacGregor had arranged were next for announcement. The prizes for the most money earned and banked went to Betty Smith and Harold Hurd; for the most money banked that was legally their own at and after banking awarded to Rose Pellerite and Walter Derrick, who had to his credit $136.50, which MacGregor pointed out represented the interest at 6 per cent in one year on $2,275.

The award of a prize for the essay that discussed "The Earnings of Saved Money," and was best written, was made by the committee to Mollie Stern.

After the cheer leaders had gotten the Juniors up to a pitch of hearty cheering, MacGregor led the school in a cheer that almost rocked the building.

Junior High scholars banked in 34 Wednesdays a total of $3,464.40, which is the interest earnings at 6 per cent in one year from $57,740.

One of the most marked features of the closing exercises was the spirit with which the boys and girls received the announcement of their fellow scholars who took the prizes. Every one applauded with a heartiness that amazed the visitors. They clapped and cheered with such marked approval as to indicate that a fine spirit pervaded the school, a joyous congratulation as warm as would have been their own gratification had they been the fortunate Juniors.

Fourth Ward school had a notable record, little known in this community, for its attendance and banking. That school is presided over by Miss Ruth Williamson, who is fortunate in the co-operation of devoted teachers and assistants. The several grades contributed in 34 weeks a total banking amount of $2,837. And it holds the record of 100 per cent in banking—that is every Wednesday there is deposited something from every member.

ber of the entire school. Albert B. rose banked $118.14 and holds the first place among the boys in the three highest grades. Among the girls Annie Guy made the highest record for the largest amount banked, $52.69. Each received a prize of a new crisp note of Uncle Sam's money, presented by MacGregor. The percentage of attendance for the term was 94. The tardies were only 144 out of 110,382 chances. Before the massed grades were dismissed they were given a blackboard drill in mastering these initials—H B D, which translated and explained meant: Habit is Bigger than Dollars saved.

ST. FRANCIS HIGH SCHOOL

The annual Commenc

ROMANCE OF THE ALMANAC

An almanac was one of the first works upon which Gutenberg employed his new art of printing in 1467, but the first to be printed in England did not appear until about forty years later. It was called "The Sheep-head's Kalender." After that date almanacs increased and multiplied, and began to include "omens and prognostications." One which is still preserved is called "The Prognostication of Mayster John Tybault; of the influence of the moon; of peace and warre, and the revolutions of Kings and Princes." Local almanacs became popular in the Seventeenth century, says London Tit-Bits. One was printed for Birmingham in 1642 by Nathaniel Nye, "Practitioner of Astronomy." The preface declares that it is for "the faire and populous towne of Birmingham in Warwickshire, where the Pole is elevated above the horizon 52 degrees and 38 minutes." At first the Stationer's company had the privilege of printing all almanacs, but James I. extended the privilege to the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge. It was not until 1804 that local printers were permitted to issue their own productions. Colored almanacs came in about 1865. They were single sheets at first, very crude and badly printed. But in about ten years they began to improve, and eventually really good pictures were bought by almanac-makers for reproduction. The "Almanach de Gotha" is 100 years old. In 1728, when first published, it had less than a hundred pages.

Prince Viggo of Denmark has formally renounced all claims of succession to the throne of that country in order to marry Miss Eleanor Margaret Green of New York; and the surprising feature of the incident is that the prince did not take this step at the behest of that element in the American government which objects to entangling alliances with foreign powers. Apparently the State department was not alarmed at the possibility that an American girl might become a queen in suspected Europe, says the Baltimore Sun. This is a new international policy, just as the measure from the United States to Honduras shows that the administration is not above giving international advice which implies a warning. But perhaps it may seem to indicate that it has adopted a course which implies a warning. But perhaps the status of the two countries is to be taken into account. Denmark is a small nation and not so prominent in the councils of Europe as to involve the United States in trouble, even though an American were on the throne, and Honduras is too tiny to be dangerous in itself, no matter how much it might resent veiled orders from the United States.

According to a western scientist, development of motion pictures in color will make it possible to show simultaneously two dramas on one screen and to enable the spectators to see the picture preferred by furnishing them with glasses that will render the other invisible. Such a possibility stimulates the imagination. A showing of a knock-down-and-drag-out comedy along with a heavy tragedy would result in such a conflict of reactions by the audience that hard feeling would ensue, says the Washington Post. A woman sobbing over the latter would naturally resent roaring merriment from the next seat. Applause at the hero's triumphs in one picture when the devilry of the villain in the other was drawing hisses would develop a variety of emotions. The double-decked movie, indeed, presents great possibilities.

The World war had a marked effect upon the bread grain consumption of some European countries as well as of the United States, says the United States Department of Agriculture. The standard of living in some countries has been lowered and cheaper foods substituted for wheat. Wheat has been conserved by "long milling," mixing, and by feeding less to live stock. In selling surplus wheat American farmers are compelled to meet increasingly keen competition in a foreign market where the demand has decreased, it is pointed out.

Automobiles parked illegally may be serious obstacles in the way of firemen and may be the indirect cause of deaths in burning buildings. Careful and fair-minded drivers will think of this hazard before they leave their machines contrary to law, even though they feel certain the police will not disturb them.

A New York heiress wed an Austrian count at the city's license bureau, the bride doubtless figuring that she could have the usual "most elaborate wedding of the season" with her next husband.

The sultan of the Wahabites has won a speaking part on the world's stage by trying to kidnap the king of the Hedjaz. There is a chap that the musical comedies seemingly have overlooked.

Keep a Lookout

It is too late to be on our guard when we are in the midst of evil.

Curwensville's Own Column

Miss Frances Schorr who had been teaching school at Braddock during the winter months, instead of coming home for her usual summer vacation, will teach a summer term in that city.

Raymond Ferguson, who has been ill at the home of his mother, Mrs. Reed Bloom for some time, is not improving as rapidly as his family and friends could wish.

Reports coming in from the result of Thursday's wind and hail storm and the damage caused in its path is something to be reckoned with. Up in the Bloomington and Turkey Hill sections the damage done was even far greater than was done in this neighborhood. Rye and wheat fields were destroyed entirely and in many homes windows in an entire side of a house were broken. At Grampian very little hail fell and no damage to amount to anything is reported. Two miles east of Curwensville there was no hail but plenty of rain. The storm came from the northwest and took an almost direct southerly direction, and was not over a quarter of a mile in width. Old timers aver that never during their long life in these mountains have they seen such large stones fall, but Porter Pyles, who was up in the Madera country during the storm, alleges that hail stones as large as a baseball fell and demolished everything over the section in which it passed.

Miss Jeanette Weber, a Youngstown young lady and a niece of Miss Lottie Bixler, arrived in Curwensville yesterday by motor and will spend a week in town with her aunt. The young lady was a former student in this place.

The Yellow Dogs held quite an interesting session in the opera house Thursday evening, and after a large class of mongrels had been instructed in the ways of dogdom, some important business matters were taken up and discussed; the most important of which were the progress of the building out at the park and scenting along the trail as to having a big Labor Day in Curwensville again this year. Last year the Yellow Dogs put over the biggest entertainment ever held in Curwensville. The membership of this fraternal organization now numbers over 600, and includes the best citizens of this town, Clearfield, DuBois, Glen Richey, Boardman, Bloomington and a number of other towns within a radius of 25 miles.

The ladies of the Pocahontas organization held a most interesting session Thursday evening. Leave it to the ladies to have an edifying entertainment at all of their lodge gatherings.

The following letter was received by the Principal of our schools: "Dear Sir: While the Yellow Dogs are doing a great deal to our beautiful park, do you think in some way you could get a 'Merry-Go-Round' and have it here by the 4th and run it until Labor Day and I bet you will be surprised to no that it will all most paid for itself by then put in the ball park and run it on sat & once

Production Drops From 11.16 Per Cent. in 1916 to 8.44 Per Cent. for First Five Months of This Year.

No improvement in business in the Central Pennsylvania coal fields, where the percentage of the total coal production in the United States has dropped from 11.16 per cent. in 1916 to 8.44 per cent. for the first five months of the current year, is looked for by the Central Pennsylvania Coal Producer's Association so long as the present business depression continues.

The wage policy in the union fields of this district, it is declared in a statement from association headquarters here yesterday is bringing about conditions which are predicted "by all observers" from the beginning of the negotiations last year between miners and operators of the district, which negotiations resulted in the signing of the present three-year wage agreement.

600 Mines Idle

Out of 1,000 mines in the Central Pennsylvania fields, 600 are totally idle, it is said, while the remaining 400 are working part time only. All non-union fields have reduced wages, the statement further avers, and practically all have reduced their scale to the November, 1917, rate. Some are said to have gone even below this level.

"The United Mine Workers of America," reads the statement, in part, "are rapidly losing what little hold they do have in West Virginia. The Kanawha field is now practically non-union. The other remaining union field is the West Virginia, the Farmington district, is in a worse situation from a working standpoint than is Central Pennsylvania, larger percentage of their capacity to produce is closed down. The situation in this field, like in our own, is becoming

The Principal of the Schools gives us the following answer: "My Dear Children: Your post card comes to me as a call from the wilderness, or as an S. O. S. call from the air. I know you need something to help make you happy during the long summer. You deserve to be happy and I believe you are happy, but we never get quite enough of the happiness of this life so we continually want more. I do not blame you for this. The Yellow Dogs, with the canteen of human sustenance around their necks, are now six hundred strong and are running hither and yon gathering material for the Kennel in Irvin Park which is intended to give pleasure to thousands. After this Kennel is completed and turned over to the Council of Curwensville, they might then take up your 'Merry-Go-Round' idea and try to work it out. You deserve every consideration and I thank you for your suggestion in the above letter. Your Friend, Grant Norris."

Intolerable.

"The no-union fields are fixing the standard of wages in the bituminous mining industry at this time. The United Workers of America are rapidly losing their power to control the wage standards."

"If the United Mine Workers would maintain a fair and stable wage situation in the bituminous mining industry, they must act quickly. Their present policy is a mistake. This must be obvious to all. This being the case, they must change their policy for the preservation of the union. The sooner such action is taken, the easier it will be to accomplish."

Total Coal Production In 1916, figures released by the association show, the total coal production in the country amounted to 592,196,882 tons, of which Central Pennsylvania produced 66,063,311 tons or 11.16 per cent. Since then the percentage credited the local field has steadily declined, reaching the ebb point during the month of January, this year, when Central Pennsylvania produced only 7.84 of the 49,952,400 tons of coal mined in the United States.

An even trend has been maintained throughout the months of January, February, March, April, and May, the last month evidencing a more encouraging production than any of the four preceding. The total production in the United States for the five months period reached 196,912,400 tons. Central Pennsylvania's share was 16,619,208 tons, or 8.44 per cent.

By month, the percentage of production for the local field, as compared with the total for the country thus far for 1924, is shown in the following tabulation:

	United States	Central Penna.	Pct.
Jan.	49,952,400	3,914,082	7.84
Feb.	45,702,667	3,796,921	8.31
March	40,470,533	3,584,301	8.86
April	29,352,800	2,434,241	8.29

A Frog Concert.

As I sat on the piazza that evening, I noticed first an ominous absence of bird voices, and next the presence of a numerous frog population about the little lake close by. The musical performances of these voluble reptiles began about sunset and increased in volume and power till nothing else could be heard. If all the thrushes in the state had assembled in that spot and sung their loudest, they could not have been heard above the awful volume of frog voices.—Olive Thorne Miller.

WOODLAND BOOSTERS MEET IN THE M. E. CHURCH SOCIAL ROOM

Another enthusiastic meeting of the Woodland Boosters was held last Monday night in the M. E. Church social room. Excellent reports were given by various committees showing that the club is living up to its usual methods of work. The question of parking for the town was discussed at length and, it is hoped that this evil will soon be remedied. The club also went on record as favoring the invitation to be a part in the parade at Clearfield on the 4th. From the vim of the Committee appointed the rest of the paraders will have to step some to outline the work and plans of this young hustling club. Mr.

Greenfield of Philadelphia and R. G. Overy of Clearfield were the speakers of the evening. The former stressed the value of Boy Scout work in an interesting address. The latter dealt on Red Cross activities in the club and also brought forth problems. Woodland Booster Club society is in its 10th year as on the 1st of January to slide on an ice-covered road could not stop with an engine at bottom. This club cannot afford it has reached the goal of its journey. Woodland a still greater club.

COMMUNITY Y. M. C. A. SWIMMING POOL GOES ON SUMMER SCHEDULE

Chooses for all Groups

The Summer Schedule of the Community Y. M. C. A. Swimming Pool, which goes into effect Monday, is well arranged this year to serve the largest number of men, women, boys and girls possible, with classes and hours most suitable to the majority.

Women and girls will be glad to know that the schedule includes four different groups with an opportunity for each group to use the crystal swimming pool two days a week, the first time in the history of the local Y. M. C. A. The girls are divided into two groups meeting at different hours, for younger girls and older girls. To fill a number of requests upon the part of young business women, one group will meet late in the afternoon to accommodate girls who come from their work in the store or office for a refreshing shower and swim in the attractive 20 by 80 pool. Women and girls are required to wear gray or white bathing suits.

The four boys groups are divided to accommodate large number of Clearfield boys, each class meeting at the same hour each day under supervision. Men can get free swimming instruction by applying to the director for appointment. Boys and girls will receive instruction at class hours.

Special summer membership rates are now in effect and many are taking advantage of the short term fees, good until October 1st: Men, $4; Intermediates and Business Boys, $3.50; Juniors, $3; Ladies, $3; Girls $2. In October the balance of the yearly rate may be paid for the remainder of the year ending June 1925.

The Summer schedule is as follows:

Cadets: Wednesday and Saturdays, 9 to 10 a. m.

Juniors: Mon. Wed. Thurs and Sat. 10 to 11 a. m.

Intermediates: Mon. Wed. Thurs and Sat. 11 to 12.

Business Boys: Mon. Wed. Thurs and Sat. 7 to 8 p. m.

Men: Mon., Wed. Thurs and Sat., 2 to 6, 8 to 9:30 p. m.

Junior Girls: Tuesday and Friday 2:30 to 3:30 p. m.

H. S. Girls: Tuesday and Friday, 2:30 to 3:30 p. m.

Business Girls: Tuesday and Friday, 4:30 p. m.

Women, Tuesday, 7:30 p. m. Friday 8 p. m.

Each bather should be supplied with towel and soap; which can be secured at the office.

Name of Labrador.

It is believed that Labrador was named because Portuguese explorers thought the natives would make good laborers, or because of the island's quired to make a living there. The name is connected with the old Spanish name for labor. The Labrador coast was discovered in the Tenth century by Leif, the Norseman, but no explorations were made. It was not discovered in 1497 by John Cabot. Explorations and settlements were made and the peninsula was named.

John of Leyden

P. R. R. Company have agreed to furnish the necessary limestone, free of any charge, to build this piece of road. This improvement will be a great convenience to all traveling to that side of town and to and from the Pennsylvania railroad station.

Second, the committee to have the eye-sore east of the Pennsylvania railroad station cleaned up, the committee being composed of V. G. Henderson, chairman, Geo. Muir, N. G. Stewart, Rev. Bitter and W. A. Devling. They reported this eye-sore cleaned up but there is some dispute as to whether the credit should go to the committee or to some of the good, energetic ladies of that end of town.

Next to report was the committee on the sidewalk through town. This sidewalk is very much needed owing to the heavy automobile traffic. The committee has been dormant through the winter, but have now awakened up and are working on this question, which will be taken up with the new supervisor of highways for this district, as soon as he is located, and they promise something definite soon.

The committee on improvements of homes next gave their report. Prizes are to be awarded to the homes making the greatest improvement through the summer; points considered: painting, tearing down old, dilapidated buildings, care of lawns, gardens, etc. Members of the committee are: Harold Woolbridge, chairman; U. E. Walker and W. A. Devling.

A committee was then appointed to make Thursday, May 1st a general clean-up day, when rubbish and dirt will be hauled away free. All citizens should cooperate in this. The stores will all close Thursday afternoon; all customers can get time at cost from the stores to do any whitewashing they want. A committee consisting of A. E. Woolbridge, chairman, A. B. Landberry and others was appointed to confer with the New York Central and Pennsylvania Railroad Company relative to signals at the railroad crossings.

The club also went on record as favoring a "hands off" policy in the controversy relating to the train service on the Pennsylvania railroad, Tyrone branch. Following this the Bradford Township School Board met and invited the club members to be present while opening the bids for the new

Washington, April 30. school building. A. W. Hess was low bidder on the general construction, Kittleberger Brothers for the heating and plumbing, and the Electric Supply Company for the electrical work.

Then all retired, after S. T. McClure, president of the Booster Club, volunteered to see that V. G. Henderson, president of the school board, got home. On the way they stopped at the restaurant to drink a toast to the new school, but hot coffee being the strongest obtainable, they drank coffee and broke pretzels to the occasion, after which McClure says he drove home without tearing down any telephone poles, but Henderson has not reported. Oh, well, we guess he is taking a little extra sleep this morning.

Concrete Pavements Grow Stronger Year After Year

When you vote for a paved road or street, you want to know that you won't be called upon for assessments every now and then to repair or rebuild it.

Built according to present-day high standards, Concrete roads and streets permanently withstand the heaviest pounding and grinding of modern traffic. In fact, they grow stronger year after year.

That is because their definitely proportioned mixture of sand, pebbles or broken stone, and water, is held together by the everlasting grip of that tenacious binder, portland cement.

Concrete Pavements have the repair built out and the maintenance built in. That is why they pay you handsome dividends in satisfaction and service.

Firm, rigid, unyielding, and the last word in paving economy, Concrete Roads and Streets are also skid-proof. And their color is a pleasing, light gray—another very important advantage, especially for night driving.

Watch for advertisements telling about the many other uses of concrete. And remember that the Portland Cement Association has a free personal service to offer you. Whether you use concrete or have it used for you, this service will give you more for your money.

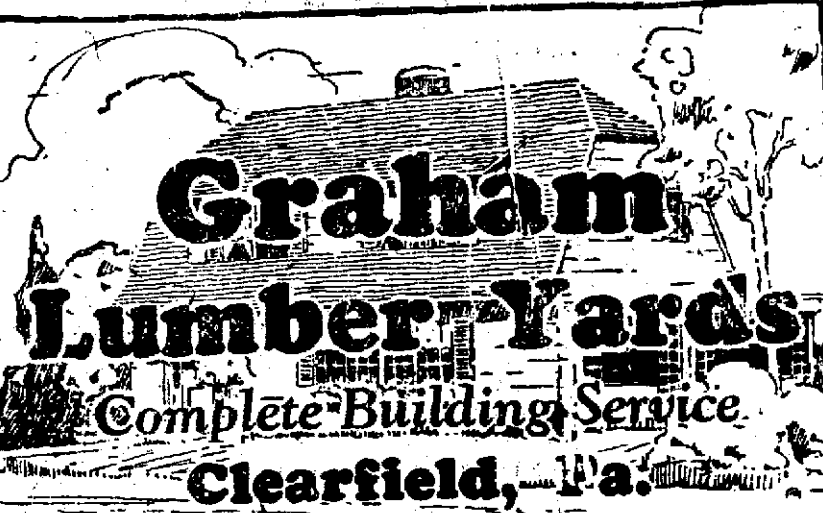

Our booklets R-3 and R-4 tell many interesting things about Concrete Roads and Streets. Which one would you like us to send? There is no charge.

COME OUT OF THE KITCHEN

Can you imagine a woman, with no domestic help, leaving her home at ten in the morning, attending luncheon and matinee and then serving a complete roast meat dinner fifteen minutes after arrival at home? That is what any woman can do with an Automatic Electric Range.

The meat and vegetables are prepared and placed in the cold oven. The temperature control dial on the door, the alarm clock and the circuit breaker on the stove are set and the cooking is forgotten until dinner time approaches.

Automatically, the electricity is turned on and turned off again when enough heat has been stored in the oven. Cooking continues on this stored heat after the electric current is turned off.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. S.

As the primary election approaches it becomes more and more apparent
that there is a steady drift of sentiment toward Mr. Sweet. The radical Brookhart is not truly representing
the steadfast men and women of Iowa,
either on the farmer or labor side. He
was free with promises but woefully
lacking in accomplishments after he had arrived at Washington. The statesmanship that majors itself in
taking the fires under our passions
is not as lasting or acceptable as the
kind that lays on soothing balms that
enable sense and judgment to function. The Brookhart style of politics
is going out of fashion in Iowa and
we are inclined to revert with some
reverence to the faith and good sense
of our father.

Road bond issues totaling more
than a quarter of a million of dollars
were authorized by the voters of the
seven or eight townships in Clearfield
county which voted on road loans at
the recent primary election. Lawrence
township electors passed favorably on
a proposition to provide $41,000 for
the township's share of improved
roads leading out of Clearfield and
also voted $20,000 for new school
buildings at Plymptonville and Kerr.
Addition. Not a single road bond issue in the county failed to go over.

Every Man's Duty

Every man should strive to be entitled to a good opinion of himself, and having gained it should strive to keep it to himself—Boston. Transcript.

Solving the Problem

What ails the world? Ask yourself, what ails you? Then you're on the right track of the problem.

Knows the Time

A musical person is one who recognizes "The Star Spangled Banner" before everyone stands up.

Seeking an Excuse

Many a town man would spend numerous idle, shiftless days in the country if he could find some excuse for it.

ANOTHER HOME REFLOORED WITH CROMAR

An already constructed house in Scranton, Pa., refloored throughout with Cromar Ready Finished
Oak Floor. Owner's name upon request.
(Drawn from photograph)

No time or expense for finishing after a CROMAR Floor is laid

CROMAR Oak Flooring is completely finished by machines at
the factory—filled, varnished and waxed. That's the way it comes to you—in perfect condition—with nothing further to do but have it nailed down. You use it the same day it is laid.

Think of the convenience in relaying the floors of an old house!
There is none of the fuss and bother that clutters things up for
saved when erecting new houses or other buildings!

With this greater convenience you obtain a more beautiful floor,
and one that retains its good looks indefinitely. A CROMAR is an easier floor to keep clean. With very little attention it will retain its beautiful finish for much longer periods than is usually expected of ordinary hardwood floors.

Write for booklet of interesting facts about flooring. We will name the local lumber dealer who can supply you. He will show you samples and tell you how little it will cost to refloor
your rooms with CROMAR or use CROMAR in a new building.
